

Western Powers to Demand Reds Join In German Parley

Talks Needed to Clear Positions Of Both Sides, Official Asserts

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Western powers will demand in the next few days a conference with the Soviet Union on the Berlin crisis, West German foreign minister Heinrich Von Brentano said today.

Brentano told a news conference such talks are needed to make clear the positions of both sides before a catastrophe develops.

He said it should be on the foreign minister level.

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communists today demanded a voice in any East-West talks on Germany and said the subject of such talks could only be the conclusion of a peace treaty.

Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party, said in a front-page editorial: "It should be clear that negotiations about the German problems without the (East) German Democratic Republic are unthinkable."

The editorial said it should be clear now to everybody after the slamming down of the Iron Curtain through Berlin—that East-West talks are inevitable. Such talks would have to be on a peace treaty for both East and West Germany or, if the West should refuse that, a peace treaty with East Germany, the Red Organ asserted.

Bilateral Talks
Neues Deutschland said that if a separate peace treaty is signed with East Germany—as Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised to do by the end of the year—all nations who want to use the land and air links between West Germany and West Berlin will have to make bilateral agreements on the subject with East Germany.

"Nobody should have any doubt, there will have to be bilateral talks and bilateral agreements on access to West Berlin," the paper said.

It added: "We are prepared to give any necessary guarantee that rightly can be expected from us against any violation of the free city status of West Berlin."

The Communist paper added, however, that the Red regime would demand "guarantees for the undisturbed peaceful life of our (East German) citizens, guarantees that West Berlin won't be turned into a center of subversion against the peaceful construction of socialism in our republic."

Imposed Illegally
The Western Allies have always refused to negotiate with the East German government, contending that it was imposed illegally by the Soviets and is kept in power by the Red army.

The United States, Britain and France also contend that their rights in Berlin and their routes of access to the city were obtained by conquest in the war and can be subjects of negotiations only with the Soviet Union.

Brazilian Military and Civil Leaders Seek to End Crisis

Army Fights Take-Over By Leftist

BY TOM MASTERSON

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Military and political leaders desperately sought today to settle Brazil's potentially explosive crisis, produced by the resignation of President Janio Quadros.

Led by Gen. Odylio Denys, the war minister, military leaders were reported steadfastly opposing any take-over of the government by Vice President Joao Goulart, the leftist labor party man who constitutionally has the right to succeed Quadros.

Goulart, en route from a visit to Red China and other countries, waited in Paris for a green light to fly home and assume the presidency.

Police and troops patrolled strategic points throughout the country, apparently determined to prevent any disorder. But there was little open display of force.

Censorship Imposed

Censorship was imposed on outgoing news dispatches and on local newspapers and radio stations. Labor unions in Rio De Janeiro and Sao Paulo, the nation's second city, declared a general strike in support of Goulart, but so far little interruption in business has materialized. Labor leaders at the coffee port of Santos announced plans to walk out tonight.

Marshal Henrique Teixeira Lott, former war minister, five army colonels and a major were detained by military authorities. Another major was being sought.

Marshal Lott, Goulart's running mate who was defeated for president by Quadros at the last national election, was picked up at his apartment after issuing an explosive statement in which he declared Gen. Denys planned Goulart's arrest if he returned to Brazil. Lott called on the people to abide by the constitution. The five army colonels and a major were picked up at Lott's place, too.

Thrown Into Turmoil

Brazil, a sprawling giant of 67 million people, was thrown into turmoil suddenly Friday when President Quadros resigned after seven months in office. He declared he had been overwhelmed by opponents, Brazilian and foreign.

Pravda Says Reds Ready to Sign German Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today the Soviet Union is prepared to sign a peace treaty with East Germany without delay.

"The path for a solution of the German question by peaceful means is open," Pravda said. "All people demand the signing of a German treaty and this should be done without delay in the interests of strengthening peace, in the interests of the whole of mankind."

The only elaboration on the phrase "without delay" was in another sentence of the front page editorial which said "the people of the socialist countries are unshakable in their determination to achieve a peaceful regulation with Germany this year and nothing will prevent them from achieving it."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said earlier that if the Western allies did not join Russia in a peace treaty with both West and East Germany, the Soviets would sign a treaty with East Germany alone by the end of the year.

Rebels Switch Premiers in Algerian Move

New Leader Favors Tougher Approach In War on France

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — The new Algerian rebel leadership asserted today it will bolster military action against French rule in Algeria, but at the same time reaffirmed that a negotiated solution to the rebellion is still possible.

The statement followed Sunday's announcement of a shuffle in the rebel provisional government, shelving moderate Premier

Ben Khedda, 62, and replacing him with Ben Youssef ben Khedda, 41. Ben Khedda, virtually unknown outside rebel circles, is farther to the left than Abbas and favors a tougher approach in the war against the French.

The shuffle took place at a meeting of the National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA), a sort of parliamentary body, in Tripoli, Libya.

Solution Possible
A communique issued at rebel headquarters here today said: "The decisions of the CNRA dealt principally with the reinforcement of the action of the national liberation army and the mobilization of the Algerian masses."

The CNRA "reaffirmed that a solution is possible within the fundamental principles safeguarding the territorial integrity of the Algerian territory, including the Sahara."

Recent peace talks with the French broke down largely on French insistence that the oil-rich Sahara is not part of Algeria.

Vice President Has Restful Birthday

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Vice President Lyndon Johnson rested in requested peace and quiet today on his spacious Texas ranch after observing his 53rd birthday Sunday.

Johnson cut a birthday cake covered with 53 candles during a small dinner party at the ranch house last night. Only members of the immediate family and a few nearby ranch friends attended.

The vice president had requested that he be permitted to spend his birthday in peace and quiet and relaxation.

Johnson plans to return to Washington "very soon," one of his aides said. Tentative plans made earlier planned for him to fly back about Wednesday.

William J. Welter, 23, Chicago, the last of three fugitives wanted in the slaying of Sauk County Deputy Sheriff James Jantz, was carried on a stretcher to a patrol car after capture Sunday. Welter was flushed out of underbrush near Lyndon Station by bloodhounds ending a week-long search.

Nelson Signs $50 Million Outdoor Bill

MADISON (AP) — Gov. Gaylord Nelson today signed a bill establishing a $50 million, 10-year program for preservation of Wisconsin's outdoor resources.

Nelson called the new law "perhaps the most important single act by a Wisconsin legislature in the past quarter century."

The Democratic governor successfully championed the legislation through a Republican controlled Assembly and Senate.

As a result of the new act, Nelson said, "the federal government and states from Pennsylvania to California are now looking to Wisconsin for leadership in the field of conservation."

The act earmarks $33 million for parks and forest recreation areas, $9 million for fish and wildlife habitat and $2.5 million for youth conservation camps. The funds, to be spent in the next 10 years, are in addition to the regular biennial appropriations made to the state conservation department.

A penny-a-pack boost in Wisconsin's cigarette tax, effective Sept. 1, will finance the program. Also included in the plan is $2 million to finance land easements to preserve areas of scenic beauty, $1.5 million for creation of new lakes.

Hiding Place Located by Bloodhounds

LYNDON STATION, Wis. (AP) — The last of three gunmen accused of killing one policeman and wounding another was found Sunday injured and helpless in a swamp by bloodhounds.

The capture of William Welter, 23, of Chicago, brought to a close one of Wisconsin's largest man-hunts. Police and volunteers had searched the resort area of central Wisconsin since the officers were shot down at nearby Lake Delton a week ago today.

The first member of the trio was picked up shortly after the shooting. The other was hunted down by two possumen last Tuesday. Mike Spencer, the Sauk County chief deputy sheriff, had directed the search.

Infected Knee
"Call the police," said Welter after his hiding place had been sniffed out by the dogs.

"He didn't want to stay in there anymore," said Mike Spencer, the Sauk County chief deputy sheriff who had directed the week-long search.

Welter, who was unarmed, had suffered a severe cut on his right knee and the wound was badly infected. He also had contacted poison ivy.

Spencer said he apparently was injured in the crash of the trio's getaway car, and possibly crawled into poison ivy while dragging himself to a creek for water.

Lived On Berries
Welter, who said little to the officers, told them that he had lived on berries and ice cream. Officers said they didn't know where he got the ice cream, but he did have money. Found in his pockets was $370.

Welter was carried from the swamp, only a short distance

Murder Suspect Dies of Cancer

MONTREAL (AP) — Lung cancer has claimed the life of Abel Vosburgh, 63-year-old laborer who faced trial this fall on charges of murdering his wife and 11 of their 15 children.

Vosburgh died yesterday in the hospital to which he had been transferred from Bordeaux jail last month after medical examination showed he was suffering from advanced cancer of the left lung.

Two surviving daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Lockery, 22, and Mrs. Gladys Maybee, 21, were at his side when he died. Both had maintained he was innocent.

Vosburgh had denied responsibility for the fire that killed his wife Marjorie and the 11 children and destroyed their frame home at Noyan, Que., Dec. 28.

16 Persons Killed in Weekend Car Crashes

Four Die in One Accident, Three in Another; Toll for Year Reaches 567

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sixteen persons died as a result of weekend highway crashes in Wisconsin, boosting the toll for the year to 567, compared with 508 at this time a year ago. Four persons lost their lives in one crash and three in another.

Glen Wittwer, 17, of Monroe died in St. Clare Hospital in Monroe early today of injuries suffered Friday night when the car he was driving skidded sideways off a highway, hit a tree stump and landed on its top. Three other teenagers in the car were injured but their conditions were not listed as critical. The accident occurred on Green County Trunk J about eight miles northwest of Monroe.

Jimmy Fennel, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fennel of Prairie du Chien, was injured fatally at 5:30 p.m. Sunday when the car in which he was riding was involved in a head-on collision with another car on State 60 about 10 miles east of Prairie du Chien.

A Beaver Dam man, Gilbert Buchholz, 25, was killed and three other persons were injured Sunday night in a two-car collision of State 49, a mile east of Wausau.

Two cars collided head-on in Lincoln County Sunday, killing three persons.

The dead were William T. Hudzinski, 45, his wife, Anna Mae, 46, and his mother, Mrs. Stanley Hudzinski, 74, all of Merrill. They were in a car driven by Hudzinski. The crash occurred on State 17 at the Lincoln-Oneida county line.

The four persons killed in a two-car crash near Orion in Richland County Saturday were Henry Bethke, 68, of Muscoda; his wife, Selma, 65; Allan Koenig, 21, of Richland Center; and Theresa Haag, 18, of Muscoda.

Dies Sunday
Mrs. Marjorie Pfuhl, 33, of La Crosse, was injured fatally early Sunday when the car in which she was a passenger overturned after leaving the highway near the junction of State 159 and U.S.

Show of Strength Elisabethville Put Under State of Siege

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — U.N. troops put Elisabethville under a virtual state of siege and arrested various foreigners today in a move apparently aimed at swinging secessionist Katanga province into the Congo government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Armored cars patrolled the streets.

Key Points Seized
U.N. detachments seized several key points in President Moise Tshombe's capital, took over the airport to assure the safe arrival of reinforcements and launched a roundup of white officers, chiefly Belgian, in the Katanga army.

There were some minor clashes and a scattering of gunshots, but a U.N. representative said nobody was hit.

(In Leopoldville, a U.N. spokesman said the operation was intended to remove all 900 foreign officers from Katanga's army and added: "The operation is going ahead smoothly without opposition and with the full cooperation of the Katanga gendarmes and police." He reiterated previous denials that the U.N. intended to disarm the entire Katanga army.)

The massive show of strength came only 48-hours after Adoula, whose Leopoldville regime is supported by the United Nations, proclaimed determination to rid this copper-rich province of all foreign civilian, financial and military interests. His chief targets are Belgians, who developed Katanga's mineral, industrial and agricultural resources while the Congo was a Belgian colony and still have millions of dollars invested in its resources.

68 Arrested
Indian Brig. Singappa Raja, commander of the U.N. task force, reported the arrest before noon of 68 of the 512 Europeans serving the Katanga regime in various capacities. About 300 of the white men on the Katanga payrolls are officers of the army — Belgian, French, British, Italian and South African.

There was no interference with press dispatches to foreign cities, but other communication with the outside world was halted.

Emergency Vaccine Flown in to Fight Outbreak of Polio

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Health officials were poised today to meet an outbreak of polio in central New York with an emergency, air shipment of oral vaccine.

A total of 300,000 doses of the Sabin polio vaccine have been allocated to the area — the first mass shipment by the public health service since it licensed the vaccine earlier this month.

Approximately 150,000 doses were en route by air.

The area now has 35 reported cases of polio.

Seven cases, all children, were reported over the weekend.

Eight Persons Drown In Sight of Hundreds

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Six men and two boys were drowned in a lake in central Sweden yesterday when their motorboat capsized only a few hundred yards from hundreds of people on shore.

None of them saw the accident or heard the cries of distress. Police believed the accident took place during a prize awarding ceremony while attention was directed toward announcement of the winners.

The Teamsters chief came face to face with James Luken, who has led four Cincinnati locals to bolt the Hoffa regime and declare intentions of joining the AFL-CIO.

The two did not shake hands. They sat on opposite sides of a hotel room as they answered questions and explained their viewpoints during a joint news conference.

North Carolina City Hit by Racial Strife

Council Will Seek Injunction to Halt Picketing

MONROE, N.C. (AP) — The City Council planned to ask an injunction today against anti-segregation picketing by mixed Negro and white youths which set off a weekend of violence in this city of 10,000.

A policeman was wounded Sunday, a white couple was held hostage for several hours by Negroes, and the highway patrol said 20 shots were fired at a carload of white persons passing a Negro integrationist's house.

Trouble started Sunday's melee started as the pickets were about to disband. Officer J. W. Rushing said he tried to disarm a Negro picket who then fled but turned and shot him in the hip. The wound was not serious.

Another officer who asked not to be named, said the incident began when an English girl, Constance Lever, 20, started to get into a car with some armed Negro pickets. This officer said Rushing tried to dissuade Miss Lever from getting into the car and that James Foreman of Chicago, a Negro integration leader, tried to pull her into it. Rushing disarmed two of the Negroes but another broke away, fired at Rushing, and fled.

Sporadic fights downtown resulted in at least 35 arrests. Most were charged with inciting to riot.

Carried placards Negro and white pickets from as far away as England and Chicago have been carrying placards in downtown Monroe for several days. They handed out leaflets charging discrimination in city's recreation facilities, in hiring by local factories and saying welfare officials deprive Negroes of relief.

Boys Rescued After Falling Into Dry Well

GLOVERSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — "Oh thank God! It was a miracle," Mrs. Robert Surnear sobbed after her two sons were pulled by rope from the bottom of a 25-foot shaft.

The boys, after being trapped at the bottom of the dry well for more than two hours, were pulled to the surface yesterday by a state trooper using a slipknot on the end of a rope.

They suffered bruises but otherwise were unharmed.

Brian Surnear, 8, and Kevin, 4, fell into the 18-inch-wide shaft yesterday as their father was preparing to take the family for a ride.

The boys were unconscious when state police arrived. Troopers pumped oxygen into the shaft and revived them.

State Trooper Glenn Chandler of Mayfield made a slip knot in a piece of rope and lowered it into the shaft.

Brian "raised his arm and I dropped my lasso, and he knew enough to sort of help slip it over his arm and shoulder. I pulled and he came," Chandler said.

"But it was a lot harder with the littlest kid. He didn't know enough to help us, and I guess he was so scared he couldn't have even if he did," the trooper said.

"But I let down this slipknot lasso, and I finally snared it around his wrist and pulled. I knew I was going to hurt him a little but he had to come out," Chandler said.

Police Break Up Rally in Dominican Republic
CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—National police, swinging clubs and firing rifles into the air, broke up an opposition political rally at nearby San Pedro de Macoris Sunday.

Ten or more persons were hurt, none seriously.

The National Civic Union, a self-styled nonpartisan organization that has led criticism of the government, sponsored the rally. Union officials protested the police action.

Gail Russell Dies in Hollywood Apartment
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Gail Russell, who a year ago said "I'm an alcoholic" but declared she had put drinking behind her, died with an empty liquor bottle by her side.

The 36-year-old brunette beauty was found dead on the floor of her apartment Saturday night by two women neighbors. Apparently the sultry star had fallen from a couch.

In addition to the bottle, there were other empty liquor bottles throughout her four-room, $130-a-month quarters.

Police said Miss Russell's death apparently was from natural causes. They said she had been hospitalized in recent years with a serious liver ailment.

President Gets Bad News on Two Programs

Bills on Education, Foreign Aid Come Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy got discouraging news today about prospects for his foreign aid and education programs in congressional showdowns this week.

Democratic strategists have about given up hope of salvaging Treasury-borrowing authority the President has sought to finance a five-year development loan program.

They privately agreed with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois who forecast a compromise on a three-year authorization under which the President will have to come back to Congress each year for the actual funds needed to carry on long-range projects.

Plan Maneuver
Democratic leaders plan a parliamentary maneuver Wednesday to attempt to bring before the House a $325-million school construction bill. If they are stalled in that effort, as seems likely, they will have to find some other way to try to meet Kennedy's repeated requests for action on the issue in this session.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference aimed a body blow at the pared-down measure over the weekend. Its education director, Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, called the measure discriminatory because it carries money for public school construction but does not provide aid for parochial and private schools.

With Senate-House conferees scheduled to consider the development loan provision of the foreign aid measure at an afternoon session, the Senate scheduled action on minor bills before taking up a controversial wilderness measure.

Preserve Wilderness
The latter bill, approved by the Interior Committee, would establish a national wilderness preservation system to keep unspoiled areas in the West that thus far have not been exploited for their natural resources.

Before the foreign aid conferees are widely divergent versions of the loan program authorization. The Senate voted to give the President authority to borrow $8 billion from the Treasury in the next five years to finance projects in needy nations.

Police Department in Denver Hit by Scandal

13 Policemen Indicted for Burglary as Governor Steps in for Investigation

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—As two police officers watched from their police 54, a retired FBI agent who now cruises, a safe tumbled from the trunk of a moving car on a downtown street. The officers gave chase, halted the car and questioned its two occupants.

The driver was Arthur Winstanley, 24, a Denver policeman. His passenger was Eugene Haas, a former deputy sheriff in suburban Arapahoe County.

From that bizarre beginning 16 months ago has come a widening scandal which has reached deep into the 770-man Denver police department, outraged community leaders and led to a full-scale state investigation.

So far, 13 Denver policemen have been indicted on burglary charges. Five have been convicted, including Winstanley, who is serving a 4-to-8 year term in the Colorado Penitentiary at Canon City. Two other officers have pleaded no contest. Six are awaiting trial.

Also involved is Sheriff Robert Roberts of Adams County, bordering Denver on the north. A former FBI agent, he is accused of aiding Denver police burglars to plan and conduct safe-cracking jobs in this heavily industrialized county. He will go on trial Oct. 17 at suburban Brighton.

Gov. Steve McNichols stepped into the controversy last week at the request of Mayor Dick Batten and other Denver officials who complained that overlapping regulations and red tape are hampering the city's cleanup efforts.

McNichols and Atty. Gen. Duke W. Dunbar are expected early this week to choose a man to head the state's investigation. The like-

'Absurd' Says Official On Charge That U. S. Aided Quadros Ouster

Claims That Statement Was Made By 'International Mischief Makers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Woodward, assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, has called absurd the Communist accusation that the United States helped engineer the resignation of Brazilian President Janio Quadros.

"Our relations with the Quadros administration have been very friendly and cooperative," Woodward said Sunday on an ABC-TV program "Issues and Answers."

"We can only hope our cooperative relationship will continue as it has in the past," he said.

Charge U.S.
Shortly after Quadros quit, the Communist press and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro began leveling charges that the United States played a part in the resignation.

Moscow radio said Sunday night Quadros' resignation was the result of "crude intervention by the United States in Brazil's affairs."

The State Department said Saturday any claim that the United States helped engineer the resignation was "nonsense and the work of international mischief makers."

The statement noted past friendly U.S. relations with Quadros, cited U.S. aid to Brazil and that Quadros had been scheduled to visit the United States in December on President Kennedy's invitation.

Whipping Boy
The Communist suggestion of a U.S. role, Woodward said, was in line with the "regular procedure of making us the whipping boy in Latin America."

In his seven months in office Quadros pursued a self-styled policy of neutralism in foreign affairs. Brazil accepted aid from the United States and signed the Alliance for Progress program, under which Latin American nations would receive $30 billion in U.S. loans over a 10-year period. Quadros also expressed friendship for the Castro regime and drew Brazil closer to association with the Soviet Union. His resignation statement Friday alluded to pressures on him from "inside and also from outside" Brazil, but did not specify any country.

Nehru Says Socialist Plan Will Show Results by 1967

Dream for India Pledges Longer Life, Better Living, Industry

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service
NEW DELHI—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru expects his dream of a socialist pattern of society to begin showing results in 1967.

A $23.2 billion development plan recently announced pledges to the people a longer life span, better standard of living and rapid industrialization.

To make the plan a success India will require foreign exchange worth $4.060 billion which Nehru expects to get from the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

man of the planning commission has described the plan "as yet a skeleton of what is to be done." But, he said, "It's a challenge to all of us... a challenge that is going to be met by the people of India."

World Peace

The plan report, however, has cautioned that "the realization of this objective for India is intimately connected with maintenance of world peace."

The plan has assured Indians that the Nehru government would change the present setup into a "dynamic pattern of society" through peaceful and democratic means and by the consent of the people."

The 750-page plan has laid no target for defense production. But it has said that by the end of the plan period the country will not only be self-sufficient in food, oil and consumer goods but would also be able to export a substantial quantity of its surplus to needy countries.

Three Steel Mills

It said by 1967, India will have 10.2 million tons of steel ingot capacity and 1.5 million tons of pig iron for sale.

India already has three government-owned steel mills running through Russian, German and British help. The fourth will begin operating soon with American collaboration.

Two privately-owned steel mills are also functioning.

Monday, August 28, 1961 Appleton Post-Crescent A3

The plan aims at rapid industrialization of the country with special emphasis on heavy industry and exploitation of natural resources.

Total investment on this project is estimated at $6 billion. The foreign exchange cost is placed at about $2.670 billion.

Major industrial projects in the public or governmental sector include iron, steel, industrial and heavy electrical machinery, fertilizers, drugs and petroleum refining.

The plan foresees production each year of 100,000 automobiles, 60,000 motorcycles, scooters and three-wheelers.

Consumer Goods

Consumer goods have also been given top priority. It is expected that by the end of the plan period India will not only have enough cotton and textiles for its people but it will have enough export er ridden in an automobile nor used a tractor.

During the next five years the villages are expected to get 25,000 miles of access roads, 8,000 veterinary hospitals and enough power to electrify 70 per cent of the villages.

A nuclear power station is planned near Bombay.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's handwritten will leaves his entire estate to his widow, Mary, and asks her to provide for his three sons by a previous marriage.

The Nobel and Pulitzer prize-winner died July 7 from a self-inflicted shotgun wound at his home in Ketchum, Idaho.

His will was filed for probate in surrogate's court and his estate was listed as "over $20,000" pending further appraisal.

The will is on both sides of a single sheet of personal stationery, topped with red-tinted letters reading "Finca Vinya San Francisco de Paula Cuba" and dated Sept. 17, 1955. It was couched in legal language.

Hemingway's attorney, Alfred Rice, said the estate consisted of cash securities real estate in the United States and Cuba, copyrights to published works and original manuscripts of published works and unpublished manuscripts.

Brazil Heads for Worsening Period

Reopened Political Wounds Mean No Immediate Political Stability

BY GERRY ROBICHAUD
Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

MEXICO CITY — Whatever happens to Brazil as a consequence of the present crisis, she is going to be in a bad way for a long time to come.

New political wounds inflicted by the resignation of President Janio Quadros and the reopening of many old ones as a result of the struggle now going on mean that there can be no political stability in Brazil for many months or even years.

Talk of civil war cannot be entirely discounted but if it occurs it is likely to be limited in scope and almost certainly bound to fail as far as the nation as a whole is concerned.

Professional Army
The army and the rest of the military comprise, by ordinary Latin American standards, a high out for years but when it does the probability is it will be found that almost any insurrection that might encourage his thinking in that direction camps to any significant may have taken the encouragement.

The question that remains unanswered at this time is whether, in view of the military's supreme role in the current crisis, the cremaintain order the moment Quadros stepped down. But in doing so it did not confine itself to its vaunted and traditional role of merely using its power to insure that constitutional processes were carried out.

By moving swiftly to block left-ist Vice President Joao (Jango) Goulart from ascending to the presidential chair, the military made it clear that it was going far beyond its traditional function of order to get an acceptable man if not one exactly of its own choosing.

Didn't Hesitate
The arrest of Marshal Henrique T. Lott for having loudly espoused Goulart's right to assume the presidency left no doubt of the military's true feelings.

The conservative Lott much esteemed and respected in military circles was Quadros' opponent in last year's elections and no small man in his own right. But the military didn't hesitate to confine him along with two major generals and a brigadier general who had supported his open stand in Goulart's behalf.

For the time being at least the military seems perfectly happy with acting President Raimundo Mazzilli, conservative follower of the former President Juscelino Kubit, presidential chair, the military made it clear that it was going far beyond its traditional function of order to get an acceptable man if not one exactly of its own choosing.

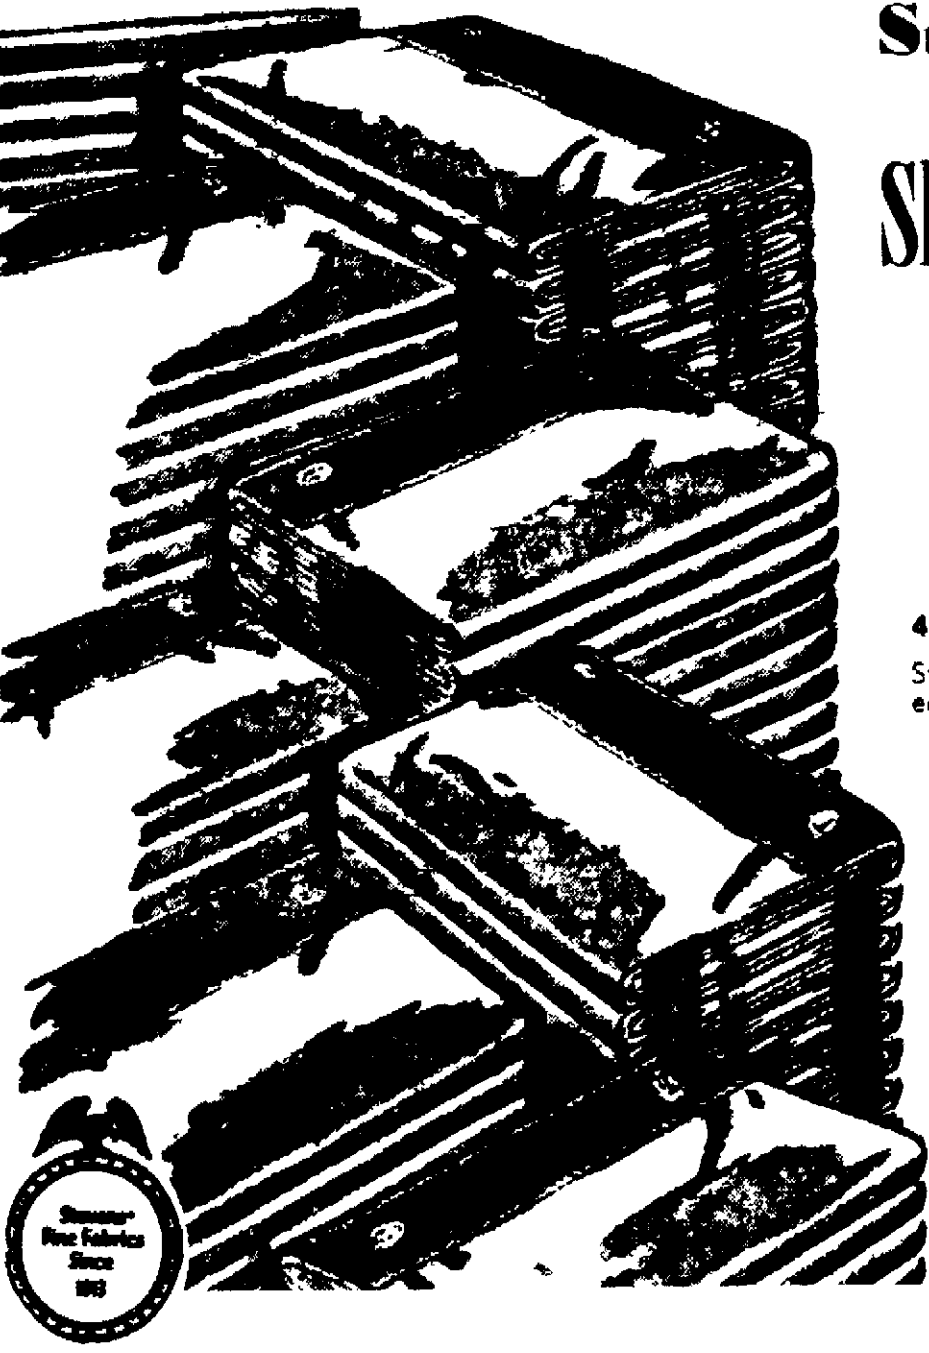

The implication is strong that it was planned that way and that Goulart's return or attempt to return to stake his claim to Mazzilli's post he would be effectively stymied as is now the case.

Popularity Declines
Goulart's popularity in Brazil has been somewhat on the decline for several years, although he

Capitol Hill Location For Movie on Drury's

Sen. Douglas Approves Use of Office,
Posts Notice for Amateur Actors

BY WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Things are moving along in preparation for the shooting of the movie, "Advise and Consent," due to start the day after Labor Day.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) has approved the use of his office in the film and a notice has gone up on the bulletin board in the Senate press gallery. It reads:

"All would-be thespians in the press gallery who would like to appear as members of the press in the movie version of 'Advise and Consent' are requested to send a note to that effect at once to Bill Barnes, casting department, Advise and Consent, Sheraton-Park Hotel."

Allen Drury, a Washington correspondent himself and author of the book that is being converted into a movie, signed the notice. Several dozen newspapermen will be needed, he said, to act out parts in a press conference and other scenes around Capitol Hill.

In addition, 500 to 600 will be invited to put on tuxedos and turn up at the Sheraton-Park for the White House correspondents' dinner scene.

It is presumed by veteran Washington observers there will be no lack of volunteers — even though there may be some eyebrows raised when the correspondents learn who director Otto Preminger has chosen to play the part of president of the White House correspondents' association.

None other than comedian Mort Sahl!

There will be no incumbent senators in the film. Guy Gillette, a former senator from Iowa who has never gone home, may be offered a small part, however, according to Drury, "because he looks so much like a senator."

Historic Places
The actors in "Advise and Consent" will be filmed in corridors, committee rooms and other historic places around Capitol Hill. They will not be permitted, however, to use the Senate chamber. This is being duplicated in Hollywood, whence the cast and camera crews will move in October after finishing the Washington footage.

The cast includes Walter Pidgeon as Bob Munson, senate majority leader; Charles Laughton as Seaborn C. Murrain; Don Murray as Brigadier General; Edward Andrews as Orrin Knox; Henry Fonda as Robert L. e f fingwell; Franchot Tone as the president; Lew Ayres as the vice president; Gene Tierney as Dolly, the Washington hostess; George Grizzard as Fred Van Ackerman and Burgess Meredith as Herbert Gelman, a key witness.

Sen. Douglas' office will be used to portray the office of Bob Munson, senate majority leader in "Advise and Consent."

Drury said he thought Preminger picked it partly because of its "magnificent clutter." There is an old-fashioned flavor to the room, in contrast to the sharp modern decor of the famously-furnished suite Lyndon Johnson used first as majority leader and now as vice president.

The carpets are threadbare and spotted with worn places where the unwary are apt to trip. High-backed chairs scattered around the room are upholstered in black leather.

An ear of Illinois corn rests on the mantle of the marble fireplace. On the walls are reproductions of Renaissance art and pictures of some persons of yesterday whom Douglas most admires. Among them: Gov. John Peter Altgeld of Illinois, Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska,

Civil War Repeat Tells Of Coward

BY THE TV SCOUT
6:30 - 7:30 (channel 5-4) The Americans repeats an episode which was still being written while it was being produced. It's a psychological study of a coward in battle and, despite the haste with which it was written, it's dramatic and intriguing. Robert Redford gives an effective performance as the coward who gets a second chance, mainly through the efforts of Jeff Canfield (Dick Davalos).

7:30 (channel 2) — There's pure slapstick on the Pete and Gladys repeat, so if that's what you like, you'll enjoy the show. Gladys (Cara Williams), as usual, supplies most of the laughs. She tries to make peace with Pete's Uncle Paul and she is determined to be on her good behavior. Then, as it must to all scatterbrained heroines, trouble comes to our Gladys, in the form of a bowling ball stuck on her thumb.

7:30-8:30 (channel 11) — Serf-side 6 repeats an exciting chase story with plenty of action and a minimum of dialogue. Roger Smith, of 77 Sunset Strip, wrote this script. Margarita Sierra, as Cha Cha, bears the brunt of the action as the object of a chase. Pursuing her is a killer who knows she has spotted him. Pursuing the pursuer is Lee Patterson. Much of the action takes place in a deserted, swamp-like section of north Florida. The whole show is very effective and suspenseful.

8:30-9:30 (channel 2) — The Spike Jones show offers our hero, joined by guest Pat Harrington Jr. and Helen Grayson, in spoofs of European and Japanese TV, and grand opera. In the TV section we sing along with Mitchamuke, and meet the button-down mind of Sessue Hayakawa. Spike then shows us how some composers show their operatic ideas — a tenor backing into a sword inspired Wagner to write "The Flying Dutchman."

8:30-9 (channel 2) — Whenever Sen. Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin, Clarence Darrow, Jane Adams and Abraham Lincoln. Douglas sometimes will ask visiting youngsters if they can identify the persons in the pictures, and then will give a little lecture about them.

Long Touring Stint Leads to Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress John Weiden has discovered that a long touring stint can lead to Broadway.

After three years on the road as Marian the librarian in the national company of "The Music Man," the San Francisco girl has been signed for a lead role opposite Alfred Drake in the upcoming musical, "Kean." It is her first White Way part.

Urges Broader View Of Religious Drama

NEW YORK (AP) — A broader view of religious drama is urged by Robert E. Seaver of Union Theological Seminary.

Addressing a conference sponsored by the Religious Drama Council of the Protestant Council, Seaver said that to some people the term "means drama in the church."

"But to people not related to the church, it suggests an amateurish stage neither theologically nor theatrically sound."

Europeans Know More of Intelligence

Some Feel That U. S. Is Making Mistake In Reorganizing CIA

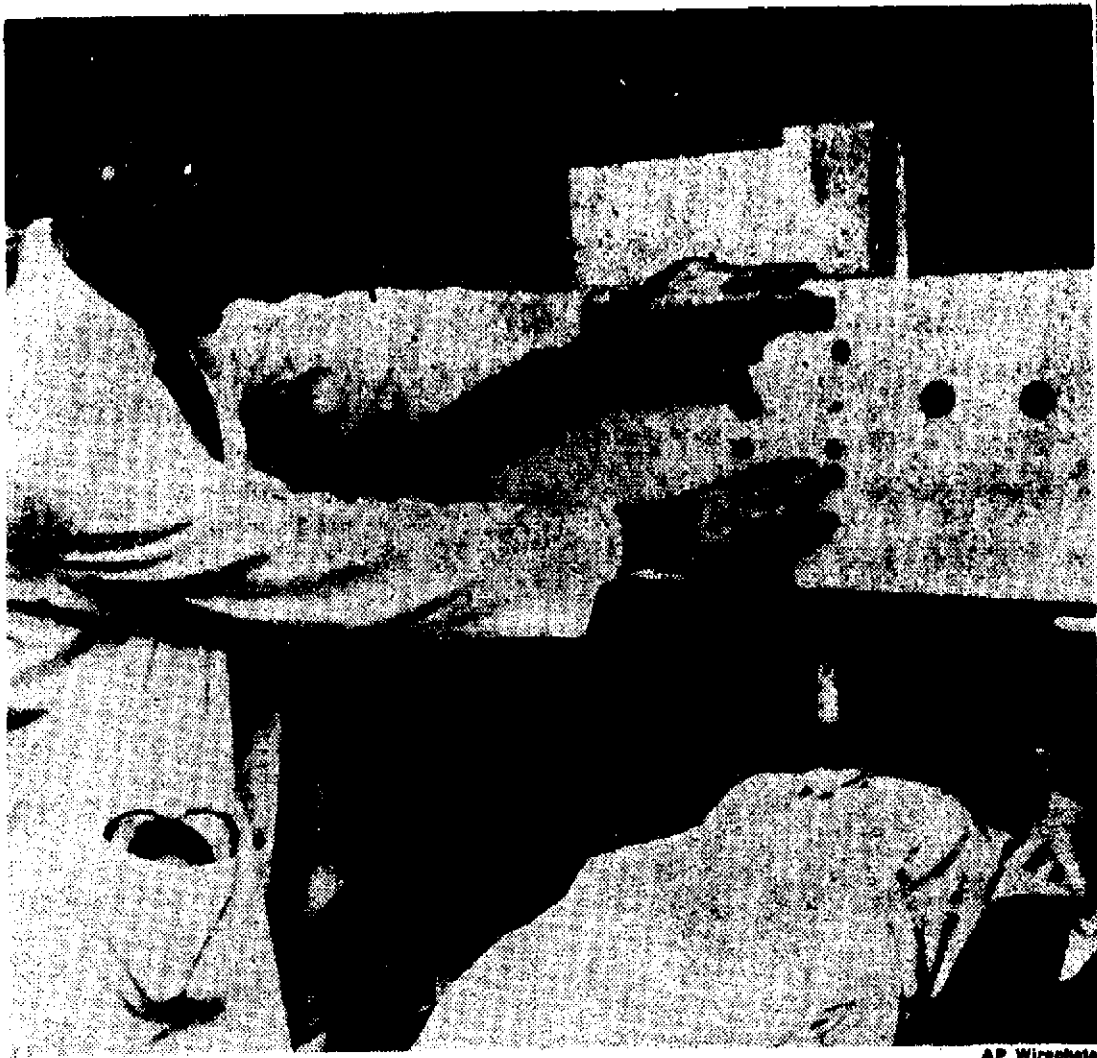

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

EN ROUTE FROM EUROPE—They know a lot more in Western Europe about intelligence work than we do in America. This is because they have been at it longer.

Hence, it was rather disquieting to have some of the European officials who are most experienced in intelligence activities say privately that they are worried about the future of the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, which up to now has been a bulwark of strength in its co-operation with European governments. Oddly enough, they wonder how so much got into print about the CIA and why American officials haven't learned that judgment of intelligence work cannot be fairly based on one episode like the Cuban affair. They suspect that inexperience and possibly a desire by other agencies in Washington to shift the blame led to the controversy over the future functioning of the CIA.

Perhaps one of the most skillful of the European intelligence executives told this writer the other day that every intelligence organization can be improved, but that, in trying to make this type of setup conform to other units in government, there is danger of actually impairing the CIA's usefulness. He asked this correspondent what was going to be done with all the information locked up in the mind of Allen Dulles when he retires at the end of this year.

Not on Paper
Rightly or wrongly, intelligence experts do not favor putting everything down on paper for the record. It involves too many risks. Hence, they say a top intelligence man should be utilized as long as he is able to function, even when "retired."

About 30 years ago, when this writer first began to talk to intelligence officials in Europe, he found them predicting that the United States might in the course of 25 years or so achieve an effective intelligence operation. It takes a long time to plant the roots of intelligence work so that the sources cannot be detected by the enemy.

Today some of the higher level men in foreign governments express admiration for the progress that has been made by the United States in the last 20 years. In fact, they speak in terms of warm admiration for the achievements of Allen Dulles.

This does not mean that they criticize the reported plans for reorganization which have been mentioned in the American press lately. Some of these specialists in Europe say reforms are long overdue in all intelligence activity—especially in relation to the public's understanding of the work.

In the first place, it is pointed out, 95 per cent of all the information gathered is what is known as "overt." This is a vast job of analysis of information that is derived from a close reading of newspapers, magazines, radio speeches and interviews, as well as trade journals of a business or scientific nature. As one expert put it: "You would be surprised at the enormous amount of information which is available to the Russians by studying our public-ly reported material."

Data Available
But even such data as become available to the Western side from behind the Iron Curtain—newspapers, speeches, scientific journals and the like—must be subjected not just to a translation by some clerk. This must be done by language experts who understand the ambiguities of expression and the spirit of a speaker's remarks. Thus, one intelligence official pointed out to this writer that he doubted whether an accurate analysis of the latest Communist Party platform had as yet been published anywhere and that several expert translators would be necessary to do such a job.

In the realm of the so-called "covert" operations, very little is disclosed by intelligence officials to anybody except certain of their own government officials. They don't like to talk about methods or techniques—which is natural. But in a recent issue of "Life" Magazine a one-time high-rank Polish espionage agent—now a defector to the West—reveals how easy it was for him and his fellow agents to pick up information from talkative scientists, workmen at factories, and even gossipy military officers, even in the United States.

There is need, of course, for specialists—those who understand the requirements, for instance, of the military services. These investigators, who deal with the gathering of vital information for the armed services, can be under-

$40,000 Suit Against TV Star Linkletter Settled for $800

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge Friday approved an $800 settlement of a $40,000 suit brought by twins Jerry and Mike Colburn, 12, against TV entertainer Art Linkletter and Mayfair Music Co. The suit charged neither the boys nor their mother, Mae Colburn, had authorized use of their picture with Linkletter on a piece of sheet music entitled, "Kids Say the Darndest Things."

Mrs. Colburn said the picture was taken when the twins appeared on Linkletter's TV show in 1958. Linkletter and the music company contended they did have permission but agreed to settle the action to avoid litigation.

Actions to Step in MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Izvestia belittled U.S. plans to assist Latin America economically and served notice the Soviet Union intends to step in. Soviet aid will be given to Latin Americans "in their struggle for national independence," Izvestia said.

separate agencies co-ordinated in a Department of Defense. There is no argument on that point.

But when it comes to ways of frustrating the espionage carried on by the communists through their own embassies and legations throughout the world and the activities of the Communist Party units stationed everywhere—all financed by Moscow—this is a tremendous problem. It means a vast personnel of counterespionage, and the results are often disappointing as well as expensive.

Every major government has to prepare itself for the reverses that occur in intelligence work. For all too often one's own agent is bought or compromised in some way by the other side. Most of the intelligence folks with whom this writer talked in Europe are curious about what happened in Cuba as far as the CIA was concerned, though they have formed their own conclusions about that affair. But, above all, this correspondent is impressed with the observation made to him repeatedly that it would be a mistake for the American government to go off half-cocked and reorganize drastically its intelligence set-up and take the risk of turning back the clock in respect to America's intelligence achievements during the last decade or more. Opening of McArthur Street Gala Occasion for Neighbors, Friends

Harold Mares and Mrs. A. W. Lehman tap the keg set up for party-goers on McArthur Street Friday evening. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fischer select records to put on the phonograph for the dancers.

McArthur Street, which has been closed for a month for repaving, was officially opened Saturday for traffic, but not before the residents living along the street christened it. Friday evening a street dance was held, complete with music, refreshments and plenty of conversation.

All the neighbors pitched in to help with arrangements for the affair. Tables were set up on terraces to accommodate the non-dancers.

Neighbors and Friends dance to the music of a phonograph at the street dance on McArthur Street Friday evening. The occasion was the opening of the street which had been closed to traffic for a month for repaving. Below, LaVene Weishoff, Dr. and Mrs. K. M. Keane and Mrs. Weishoff sit on the sidelines watching the dancers.

Community Control Best for Schools

BY ANGELO PATRI

Remote control may be fine for a machine. But I'm sure that every machine — however efficient it may be — requires the power of human hands guided by intelligence. Today, in this regard, I want to talk about the education of children.

When a home gives over the education of its children to the school, shifting the responsibility to the teachers, the children lose something of highest importance to them, the teaching and guidance of their parents, the people closest to them, the people who depend on most, admire the most.

When the school shifts its responsibility, or it is taken from it, the school loses a great portion of its power, its vitality. The spirit of a school is created by the people who create the school.

They put their peculiar personalities on the working atmosphere of the place. When their authority is lessened their responsibility must be lessened accordingly and their personal contribution to the children in their charge is lessened to the lowest level.

Need Closer Control

Now if the schools are still further removed from the community they serve and the Federal government takes part in their administration, what is left of the home-neighborhood public school that has so far in our history done so noble a part in the education of this country's children?

An authority miles away, someone in an office, some person who has never seen the children in his charge and never will, who orders what shall and what shall not be done for him, simply cannot serve.

Five Generations Visited recently at the home of Mrs. C. E. Barber, 1315 N. Harriman St. Above are Mrs. Barber, the great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Richard Bauer holding her daughter, two-month-old Kay, Mrs. Jack Vanderloop, Little Chute, grandmother, and Mrs. Martin Williams, great-grandmother.

And who pays for this? Only the children.

After many years of experience I know that a school must serve the community it lives in and does so by living close to its people. The principal and teachers must have freedom to do the work laid down for them and to do so they must be free of domination by those who would establish remote control of the schools.

The public schools belong to the people and they had better look alive or they will lose all say about them.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

A lovely teen writes: I am the painfully thin type. Gaining weight is an awful effort for me. I have a terrible time eating all the food it takes to put on an ounce. By struggling last winter, I did gain eight whole pounds, but now I have lost four. It's discouraging. Must I eat more than I want forever, so as to keep my weight up?

The answer: No lightweight can hope to hold onto a gain if she begins to eat like a reducer. This is particularly true during the early teen years, when your height is on the increase. Then, unless your weight increases in proportion to your height, you could soon come to look like a bean pole.

It follows that the only solution is to balance your food intake with your needs. That means a daily calorie count of 3200 until you achieve your ideal weight. Once you attain it, you can begin very slowly to decrease the count — cut about 100 calories a day until you reach the normal intake for teens of 2500 calories. But do keep an eye on your scale. If your weight slips as much as a pound, increase your count. Remember, too, that you must gain weight when you gain height. The sure way is a high-calorie diet. Only count calories faithfully, and your weight will eventually stabilize itself. Meanwhile you will become accustomed to eating more and will learn the true enjoyment of food. Then you will gain for keeps!

Facial flaws both large and small can be repaired by make-up. How to give the illusion of perfection to imperfect features is detailed in my leaflet, "Make-up Make-Believe." To obtain a copy, write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin. (Copyright, 1961)

The Ailing House Use Aniline Dye to Color Shellac

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

COLORING SHELLAC

Q: Is it possible to color shellac?

A: Use any aniline dye soluble in alcohol. Dissolve the dye in a little alcohol and mix it with the shellac. Orange shellac is somewhat darker than the white shellac.

REPLACING FELT

Q: I have a very old cabinet with a folding ledge that has a felt top when opened. The felt is very worn and shabby. How can this be replaced?

A: Remove the present worn felt and smooth the ledge surface with sandpaper, and wipe off any dust. Coat the wood surface with pure, fresh, white shellac thinner half-and-half with denatured alcohol, and allow to dry and harden. Apply a second, liberal coat of the shellac and lay a piece of new felt, cut to exact size, in position pressing it on firmly without stretching.

HARDENED WOOD PUTTY

Q: Is there any way to soften wood putty that has hardened in the can? We like to keep it on hand, but find that after a new container is started the remainder hardens in spite of putting the cover on tight.

A: Get lacquer thinner for softening the wood putty, available at paint hardware and variety stores.

CORK FLOOR CARE

Q: The floors in a large area of my home are cork. Not having instructions on care, I called the dealer to ask how to remove adhesive and marks and advised to use kerosene, without any cautioning or warning. I used kerosene for cleaning for several months, and now advised not to. Floor will not retain wax, is scuffed and whitish looking. Is there a solution?

A: Cork floors need special care for long, satisfactory service. They should be cleaned with mild soap, rinsed thoroughly with clean water to remove all trace of soap and dried immediately. The prolonged use of kerosene may have deteriorated the surface of the cork. Try going over a small section with fine steel wool and a polishing or paste wax made by a nationally-known manufacturer, then buffing the wax. If this restores the finish, continue the treatment for the whole cork area. If not successful, afraid the entire cork flooring should be sanded with a floor sanding machine with paper of medium coarseness to expose a fresh surface. After wiping off the dust, apply a thin coat of synthetic resin floor varnish or a floor sealer.

GUEST FEELS AWKWARD

When I go alone to a reception, tea or Open House, I always feel awkward and embarrassed for the first few minutes or so. Is there a trick or formula to overcome this?

Louise Davis Answers:

If you keep in mind that others feel the same way at parties, it may help to put you more at ease. The oftener you go solo, the simpler it will become. Later on you will be able to look back on these affairs remembering that you enjoyed yourself despite your previous embarrassments. Try going fairly early for the first few times when the parties won't be crowded. You'll be

Rev. Koenig Officiates at Marriage

Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church was the setting at 2 p.m. Saturday for the marriage of Miss Betty Jane Vick and Norbert D. DeBaere, 134 Douglas St., Neenah.

The Rev. Lyle J. Koenig officiated at the double ring uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Vick, 904 W. Hawes Ave., and the son of Anthony DeBaere, 323 N. Main St., Brillon.

The bride was attended by Miss Nancy Boehme, Appleton, as maid of honor and by Misses Karen and Janet Blohm, Seymour, her cousins. Cindy Vick, Appleton, was flower girl.

David Vick, brother of the bride, was best man and Jerry Smith, Appleton, and Robert Blohm, cousin of the bride, Seymour, were groomsmen. Michael Sheehy, Appleton, and Byron Vick, Black Creek, uncle of the bride, shared in the Army.

The bride is employed at Zwick-Knitting Mill. Her husband is Creek, uncle of the bride, shared in the Army.

If you want my advice on jumping out of windows, the word is "Don't." Disregard this advice, however, if you find yourself in a burning building. And make the same kind of exception when you're in a desperate bridge situation.

he allowed South to play the hand at one notrump doubled.

South managed to get two diamond tricks and the ace of clubs, before giving up the ghost. The opponents collected a penalty of 1100 points, and everybody was happy. East and West were happy about the 1100 points; North was happy to have followed the rule; and South was happy that he wasn't as big a fool as his partner.

Sure To Lose

In a bridge sense, North was in a burning building when he picked up his worthless hand and heard his partner get doubled at find out whether or not your part one notrump. If North passed he was sure to lose a huge amount.

In this situation a player should bid any suit of five or more cards. If he had no five-card suit, he should bid any low suit of four cards. The reason you bid a low suit (an not a high suit) is that you want to make it easy for somebody else to bid a higher suit.

In this case, North should bid two clubs. There's a fine chance that the opponents will wander into spades. If they get to four spades, a diamond lead will beat them.

At worst, North will be doubled at two clubs instead of at one notrump. He will probably hold the loss down to 500 points, which is unlucky but not disastrous.

Mind you, the general rule for

The bedroom furniture is slightly darker than the carpet. I'd also like a color idea for the bedspreads."

Choose a fabric which shows much white background and has light patterning which includes turquoise, to repeat the turquoise in the living room, and another fresh and appealing color—perhaps green — which you'd like for bedspreads. PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. My young Chow puppy's eyes are constantly running. I understand that this is quite common with this breed. Is there anything that can be done about it? J. Lynch, Brooklyn.

A. The constant watering of the eyes in Chows is usually caused by the ingrown eyeleashes so common to the breed. Although Chow breeders have done their very best to eliminate this condition, we still encounter it. Both ingrowing and outgrowing eyeleashes will cause the dog's eyes to run and be unsightly. Ointments have been used on the eyes, but with very little success. In most cases, surgery is necessary to correct the angle and direction of the eyeleashes. This is plastic surgery under anaesthesia and therefore painless. But like any surgery, the patient must have careful attention after the operation to assure success. The results are certainly worth the effort.

SEAMS TO ME

Fitting Dresses

By Patricia Scott

Fitting a dress accurately when it is partially completed is very important. Even if you have altered your pattern, you'll find that a d j adjustments must still be made since fabric molds to the figure better and falls differently than paper. Here are a few things to check when you reach the fitting stage.

Bodice: Put bodice on and close fastenings accurately. Check size of neckline and slope of shoulder seam. Lift the outer edge of shoulder seam and see if it improves the set of the blouse. Next check darts and other details. Pin seams and darts that must be working on front and back first, then side seams. The skirt should fit easily at hipline. If too tight, it will wrinkle across the abdomen after you sit down, and will make you look much heavier. Sit down to see if you allowed enough ease.

If skirt draws across abdomen and hips, it's too tight. If you have a sway back and didn't adjust the pattern, there will be a fold at the center back about 3 inches below waistline. Lift center back of skirt until fold disappears and pin to blouse forming a new waistline seam. Lift so that the widest part is at center back tapering to the original waistline at side seams.

Armhole: If too tight, trim off a little at lower curve between front and back notches. Trim off no more than 1/4 inch at underarm seam and taper to nothing at notches.

changed. Check side seams. Fit them snugly at waistline, but allow enough ease through the bust.

Check armseye (armhole) seam and avoid any altering that will change position or size. If you must adjust, place a row of pins where armseye stitching line should be. Remove bodice, fit pattern to armhole, matching stitching line of pattern over pin line. Recut armhole along pattern cutting line to retain original shape. Baste sleeves in and try on bodice to check armseye seam.

Now, check waistline, tying a cord snugly around waist. If waistline seam is off, place a row of pins or chalk mark along cord. For a princess line dress, alter darts and seam lines so waistline falls in place. The widest part of the double-pointed darts on this type of dress must fall exactly at the waist.

Neckline: If neck seems small, remember that a 1/2 inch seam is to come off this edge. Be sure you really need it before changing. To enlarge, trim around neck a tiny bit, much less than you think is necessary. If neckline is faced, trim facing the same amount. Also adjust collar.

If neckline is too large, it may be stretched. Try putting a line of stay-stitching around neckline and ease it to its original size. If it is much too large, try one of three things. Either sew a 1/2 inch seam instead of 1/4 inch as patterns allow, making it 1/4 inch smaller or make two small darts at back of neck taking in excess fullness or take shoulder seam in a bit at neck edge and taper back to normal shoulder seam. The last method is only a last resort. The first two are preferable.

Skirt: Baste skirt to bodice. Try trends are, you can add items on and close placket accurately. Adjust darts and seams, always he'll want.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

IDEALISTS ARE UNREALISTIC!

TRUE IS FALSE

WHAT PERCENTAGE OF THE WORLD'S CHILDREN ARE RETARDED?

2% 4% 6%

True—False—
False. Some dreamers are quite unrealistic. But believing in ideals and working toward a moral order that releases man's full potential, is far more realistic than someone who calls themselves realists. Pointing to the mire and missing the stars is no more realistic than refusing to see the mud. An idealist who sees where things could be better is often a realist in the most effective sense.

What percentage of the world's children are retarded?
2% 4% 6%

The International Bureau of Education carried out an inquiry on this question in 71 countries. It estimates that some 4 per cent of the world's children are mentally handicapped in varying degrees. Early diagnosis is necessary to tell whether a child is really mentally deficient or somehow blocked or backward but with capacities for developing later. Parents or teachers who are concerned about a child's slowness should have appropriate tests made before they jump to unwarranted conclusions.

Asthma and Hay Fever Relief Comes in Minutes ...and Lasts For Hours

Tiny Tablet Now Available Without Prescription!

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical Science has developed a new, tiny tablet that not only stops asthma spasms, but brings relief to those who suffer from hay fever attacks.

Authoritative tests proved this remarkable compound brings relief in minutes—and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful spasms.

This fast-acting formula is prescribed by doctors for their private patients who suffer from asthma or hay fever. And now sufferers can obtain this formula—without prescription in most states.

Your Problems

Tough-Bearded Gent Advises Research on Shaving Advice

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Pretty good at handing out advice, aren't you? And what slays me is that I know a lot of people who swear by you and if you told 'em to go jump off the Brooklyn bridge, they'd jump.

You told "Tone" that it won't kill her husband if he shaves twice a day on special occasions—just to make her happy. How do you know it won't kill him? Have you ever tried it? I happen to have a very tough beard and when I shave twice a day it kills me.—Bruce from O. U.

Dear Bruce: If I had to experience, first-hand, every problem before I could advise on it, I wouldn't be in any shape to write this column.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have attended college for four years. Due to a little trouble with some science courses I did not graduate with my class last June.

My father promised me a trip to Europe if I would go to summer school and get the necessary credits for a degree. I agreed to this and I am winding up the summer-session with very good grades. My father now tells me that he doesn't think it is proper for a girl to go to Europe alone. He has suggested that my aunt go with me.

I've never cared for this aunt. She is an addle-brained bore and a hypochondriac. I can just see myself playing nurse all over the continent.

I will be 23 years old in October and feel grown up enough to travel without a chaperone. My father says it will ruin my reputation. He would like your opinion and I have agreed to abide by it.—Anti-Auntie

Dear Anti: It's unfair of your father to attach a "rider" to his promise after you have fulfilled your part of the agreement.

A woman is what she is by the time she's 23. A trip to Europe, solo, will not damage her good name.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My son is 18 and I'm worried about him. He is carrying on a correspondence with a cheap little nothing who used to live in this city. I was delighted when she moved because of the shameless way she chased after Victor.

I have no idea what type of letters he is writing to her but I'm sure they aren't as vulgar and mushy as the ones she writes. The letter that came yesterday referred to his hot kisses on her neck. She must be making up this stuff because my Victor wouldn't act like that.

You can say what you want about it being a man's world, Ann, but mothers of young sons have their hands full these days. Please tell me what to do about these trashy letters. It would be rather awkward for me to admit that I know what the girl has been writing.—Plenty Worried

Dear Plenty: The first thing you can do is stop reading your son's mail. You're way out of line.

If Victor has been brought up properly he will not respond to a cheap, love-magazine approach to romance. So if you did your job well, mother, you can stop worrying. It figures, however, that a boy who receives torrid little notes must be sending out something besides baseball scores.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers

Just Can't Keep A Good Car Down

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Southwestern student Don Eyles Jr. thought he had seen the last of his aggravating little foreign car—but it turned up again.

Police fished it out of the Mississippi River. Diligent police work traced the car to Eyles, who looked at it and sighed.

Yes, it was his, he said, but he had pushed it over a bluff during a fit of rage and wanted no further part of it.

Police will keep the auto 30 days, then sell it at auction. No charges were filed.

To Your Good Health

Do-It-Yourself Diagnosis May Cause Serious Trouble

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

DEAR DR. MOLNER: Would you give me a list of acid-forming foods? This is most important to me because my system is full of acid. M. M.

"Dear Sir: My son has not been well and refuses to go to a doctor. He has found his symptoms in some sort of a book and has diagnosed his problem as pellagra. Please tell me about pellagra? Is it serious? What can be done? —Mrs. E. M."

We're quite a nation of do-it-yourselfers these days. I'm in favor of all of us doing the things that preserve health. But I'm definitely frightened by some of the do-it-yourself diagnosis that I hear about.

Diagnosis, at best, is a difficult task. Trying to do it yourself is treacherous. Even doctors go to other doctors to judge their own symptoms. Worry, fear, overconfidence, all sorts of things can disturb judgment, and it's better and safer to have some other doctor do the diagnosing. He has perspective. He also can sometimes see things which have developed so subtly that the patient himself doesn't notice them.

So if you can fix electric wires without shocking yourself, or tend to the plumbing without flooding the place, or pour cement like a professional, more power to you, but beware of the danger of self-diagnosis.

Meaningless Phrases

That's the answer to today's two letters. In the first one, "acid in the system" is one of those phrases that simply doesn't mean anything.

True, analysis of different body fluids may show a significant difference in degree of acidity or alkalinity. The stomach fluids, for example, are supposed to be acid. Lack of acid is a sign of something wrong.

Furthermore, no foods cause the system to become either more or less acid. Foods of any type are digested, and in the process are broken up into other chemicals. Tomatoes, for one example, are mildly acid—but they do not make either the stomach or the system "acid."

Now for the second letter: Yes, pellagra can be serious.

But pellagra is a "deficiency disease." It is the result of continued lack of certain things in the diet—Vitamin B2 and related vitamins, and protein.

Pellagra happens in some (not most) farming sections of the world where people live principally on starchy foods and vegetables (potatoes, etc.) but don't get enough meat, fish, dairy products and such high-protein foods.

Pellagra virtually never occurs in cities. So in a case like today's, it's a million-to-one chance that it isn't pellagra. Or if, through extraordinarily bad and needlessly bad diet, it is pellagra, it's pretty illogical to hunt through "some kind of a book," rather than to follow the simple rules of good diet!

I'm not opposed to books. Quite the reverse! But it's so easy for someone trying do-it-yourself diagnosis to latch onto one symptom or another and decide that the single symptom identifies the trouble.

For a few common examples: Tuberculosis still goes unchallenged because a victim says it's "bronchitis" or "a cigarette cough." Chest pain due to heart trouble is dismissed as "indigestion." Appendicitis or gall bladder trouble is passed off as "something I ate."

Diagnosis isn't that simple. In fact, I can't offhand think of any trouble that can be identified by just one symptom or two. It takes several, and sometimes a great many, facts to solve the case.

Few Bachelors, Spinsters In County

Outagamie Marriage Averages Higher Than State, Nation

(Special to the Post-Crescent)

Outagamie County residents, it appears, are very marriage-minded.

Seems as if the young men and women locally get the marriage urge relatively early and don't lose it until the "I do's" are said. As a result, bachelorhood and spinsterhood have been faring poorly in the county.

These tendencies are reported in recent years. Since World War II, the median age of persons marrying for the first time has decreased by 1 1/2 years in the United States. It now stands at 22.8 years for men and 20.3 years for women. Actually, more girls are marrying at 18 than at any other age. About 45 per cent become brides ed.

County over the age of 14 and 68.3 per cent of the female population are now married.

The average locally, taking into account both men and women of marriageable age, comes to 68.2 per cent.

That is a high proportion of married people. It is above that encountered generally in the United States, where it averages 67.5 per cent. Wisconsin's average is 67.1 per cent.

What's the explanation? One is that earning power, which makes marriage possible financially, is comparatively high locally.

As to the number of people in Outagamie County who have never been married, the Census Bureau report lists 8,284 men and boys and 7,649 women and girls over the age of 14 in that category.

Getting married early and raising a fair-size family has been growing more and more popular in recent years. Since World War II, the median age of persons marrying for the first time has decreased by 1 1/2 years in the United States. It now stands at 22.8 years for men and 20.3 years for women. Actually, more girls are marrying at 18 than at any other age. About 45 per cent become brides ed.

CHICAGO (AP)—Cook County wound up last week with $5,994 too much in the till and County Budget Director C. R. Hodgman threatened to stop all county fiscal operations until the books balanced. A team of accountants located the bookkeeping error: Somebody forgot to pay a bill for sponges used at the county hospital.

Reds Report Hijack Try

BERLIN (AP)—Twelve German youths, intent on sailing to a "NATO port," tried to take over the East German pleasure steamer Binz while on a Baltic Sea cruise with 250 passengers and crew, the Communist news agency ADN reported. The ship's crew managed to overpower "the young pirates," ADN said, and they were handed over to police.

while in their teens, according to the Population Reference Bureau. Among Outagamie County's male population are listed: 969 widowed and 337 divorced. For the female population the totals are 3,376 widowed and 481 divorced.

State's Rank as Leader in Paper-Making Rally Theme

Wisconsin's current rating as the country's leading pulp and paper-producing state comprises the principal theme for the 16th annual Lake States Logging Congress in Green Bay, Sept. 14 to 16.

Wisconsin today, according to a recent report of the Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service, Neenah, accounts for one-tenth of the entire production of pulp and paper products in the United States. Further gains are forecast during the remainder of the current decade.

Meanwhile, the report adds the threat of foreign competition may be a continuing problem and the growth of the industry in Wisconsin will depend to a great extent on the state of the national economy.

Uphill Climb

Climaxing an uphill climb after the difficult days of 50 years ago, when the lifting of Canadian tariffs on newsprint threatened to cripple Wisconsin's paper industry, manufacturers in the state topped all sales and production figures, largely through the distribution of specialty paper products.

The decade of the 50s was a significant era, when Wisconsin's paper employment and production were increased by about 50 per cent.

The report also brings out that: Production of pulp, paper and paperboard in Wisconsin amounted to more than 3½ million tons in 1959, compared with 34.1 million tons produced in the entire country last year.

2.4 Million Tons

Wisconsin mills began the fifties with an annual output of about 2,400,000 tons.

Wisconsin now outranks all other states among the 42 which produce paper. In addition to tonnage, Wisconsin mills lead in sales of approximately $850,000,000 annually in state and national taxes of about $105,000,000 yearly; in capital investment of almost $900,000,000 and in annual wages of about $225,000,000.

Outagamie Mental Patient Costs High

Waupaca, Shawano Totals Low In State for Mental Institutions

Expenditures per patient in Outagamie County Hospital is among the highest of 36 Wisconsin county mental hospitals, and Waupaca and Shawano county hospital expenditures are among the lowest in the state, a table in this month's "Wisconsin Counties" magazine shows.

Total per capita cost per week in Outagamie County Hospital for the year ending June 30 was $33.67. The figure was exceeded only by Milwaukee, with a high of $36.82, and Racine County.

Waupaca County Hospital at Weyauwega had the fourth lowest per capita cost, $14.67, and Shawano County Hospital the fifth lowest, $14.91. Grant County was low with $11.04.

Average weekly cost in the 36 hospitals was $23.49 per patient, compared with $17.06 in 1955-56.

Winnebago Costs
Winnebago County spent $23.39 a week for each patient in its mental hospital. This includes $2.84 for administration and general costs, $14.59 for care of patients, $4.80 for household and property and $1.86 for depreciation. The Winnebago County Farm brought in about $7.71 per patient per week.

The Outagamie County Hospital expenditures include $2.85 for administration and general costs, $22.14 for care of patients, $6.90 (highest in the state) for household and property and $2.09 for depreciation. The farm brought in about $3.1 a patient per week.

Waupaca County's expenditures per mental patient include $2.10 a week for administration and general expenses, $8.61 for care of patients, $3.96 for household and property and $1.28 for depreciation. The county farm pays $1.17 per patient per week.

Shawano County's farm produces the second most income per patient of the 36, a total of $1.55 a week. The county hospital's weekly expenses include $1.39 per patient for administration and general costs, $10.73 for care of patients, $3.74 for household and property and 89 cents for depreciation.

Eleven of the 36 county farms operated at a loss last year, with loss as great as La Crosse County's 85 cents per patient per week. Farm profits ran as high as Eau Claire County's $1.88 per patient per week.

Post-Crescent Hearing Before NLRB Opens

Recessed to Allow Board Attorneys to Talk to Superiors

The National Labor Relations Board opened a hearing at 10 a. m. today on its complaint of unfair labor practices against the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Fifteen minutes later the hearing was recessed for a half hour so attorneys for the NLRB could call their superiors in the Chicago regional office. The hearing is being held in Appleton's city council chambers.

The half-hour recess stretched into more than an hour and a half, and the hearing was adjourned at noon, to be resumed at 1:30 p. m.

The complaint is the result of charges of unfair labor practices, filed by the International Typographical Union Local 612, AFL-CIO.

ITU Claims
The charges followed attempts by the ITU to organize certain workers in the Post-Crescent mechanical departments. Most of these workers now are members of the Independent Post-Crescent Craftsman's Union.

The complaint claims the Post-Crescent has been giving unlawful aid, assistance and support to the Craftsman's Union by permitting it to conduct meetings and other union business during working hours, and by contributing and offering financial and other support to it.

Other Claims
The complaint also claims the contract between the Post-Crescent and the Craftsman's Union contains provisions which require preferential treatment of union members in regard to employment security, life insurance benefits and pay.

Trial Examiner Eugene F. Frey, Washington, D.C., is in charge of the hearing.
Julian B. Schriber and George Graf, Chicago, are attorneys for the NLRB.

Nicholas M. DiPietro, Indianapolis, Ind., director of organization, is representing the ITU. Victor Harding, of the Milwaukee law firm of Whyte, Hirschbrock, Minahan, Harland and Harding, is representing the Post-Crescent.

Youth Bounces Car Off Tree

David J. Kuba, 17, 1018 N. Gillett St., drove into a tree in the 1100 block of W. Winnebago St. about 7:45 a. m. today, knocked over about 9 1/2 a. m. today. Both barked 22 feet from the tree and landed his car to a point 109 feet from the initial impact.

Mrs. Bernice M. DeBruin, 330 N. Sidney St., Kimberly, hit the accelerator instead of the brake the 30 by 120-foot machine shed on her car about 2 a. m. Sunday. An inventory is being compiled to establish the definite loss. Clark Avenue. The auto rammed into two buildings, Murphy's Lunch and Dick's Tavern. Mrs. DeBruin was uninjured.

Holy Hour Will Be Held Tonight, Rain or Shine

If rain forces cancellation of the Holy Hour of Prayer scheduled for 8:30 p. m. today at Goodland Field, services will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, 404 W. Lawrence St. at that time.

Five Injured In Accident

Rural Oshkosh Man Hits Rear of Car Coming Over Hill

OSHKOSH — Five people were injured in a 2-car accident on County Trunk GG south of Neenah at 8:57 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. James Vander Wielen, 31, her two sons Jeffrey, 1 1/2, and James Jr., 5, all of 2621 E. Newberry St., Appleton, and Pat Friberg, 14, 345 S. Main St., Kimberly, all passengers in the car driven by James Vander Wielen, 32, received cuts and bruises in the accident.

Mrs. Roy Meltz, 51, route 5, Oshkosh, a passenger in the car driven by her husband, was advised to see a doctor by Winnebago County Police.

Vander Wielen was driving east, and came over a hill and saw the Meltz car pulling out of a driveway. He said he thought the car was going to speed up. He hit the left rear of the Meltz vehicle.

Church Microphone

Someone entered the unlocked Memorial Presbyterian Church and damaged a microphone on the pulpit, officials told police Saturday. Damage was estimated at $50.

This is the hole left by a car which veered out of control at Parkway Boulevard and Summit Street, hit a parked car and knocked it into another parked car. Driver of the car, Marvin B. DeWall Jr., 21, 829 W. Hawes Ave., appeared in Municipal Court on a drunken driving charge this morning.

This is the General view after a car driven by Bruce Storch, 18, 116 Lawe St., Neenah, went out of control on S. Park Avenue. Neenah, near Adella Beach and hit the home of Benjamin Hart. A 16-year-old girl is in serious condition.

$50,000 Fire Levels Shed At Winnebago County Farm

Contents, Building Complete Loss; Cause of Blaze Not Determined

WINNEBAGO—Fire this morning leveled the machinery shed at the Winnebago County Hospital farm, causing damage unofficially estimated at about $50,000.

Three Oshkosh fire trucks and one from the Town of Oshkosh fought the fire which was discovered about 7:45 a. m. today. Both barked 22 feet from the tree and landed his car to a point 109 feet from the initial impact.

The loss includes the contents of the 30 by 120-foot machine shed, a smaller tractor, a 2 1/2-ton farm truck with a dump body, three plows, two hay mowers, a corn chopper, blower, seeder, corn planter, two cultivators, quick digger, a mower, chicken feeders and smaller equipment.

The fire started in the west end of the shed near the slaughterhouse in the area where one of the tractors was stored. Two large tractors were already in use on the grounds when the fire broke out.

Ward mentioned the barn had been rewired a year ago. It is a wood frame structure and both it and the contents were a complete loss. The upstairs of the shed is used for housing year-old hens, but was empty at the time.

Former Appleton Man Associate In Madison Firm
Barnes A. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Clark, 2018 N. Division St., Appleton, has become an associate member of the law firm of Schlottbauer, Tenslow and Reed, Madison.

Clark, a 1953 graduate of Appleton High School, received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1957. Following graduation, he was an officer in the Military Police corps.

In January, he received his law degree from the UW and was admitted to the state bar in July. While in college, Clark was a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity and Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. He and his wife live in Madison.

Coated Paper Union Ends 17-Day Strike

Car Goes Out Of Control, Hits Garage

Marvin DeWall, 21, Appears in Court on Tippy Driving Count

Marvin B. DeWall Jr., 21, 829 W. Hawes Ave., appeared in Municipal Court this morning on a city charge of drunken driving stemming from a 3:30 a. m. Sunday crash at Parkway Boulevard and Summit Street.

However, Judge Gustave Keller sent DeWall back to the Outagamie County jail until 4 p. m. today while the charge was changed to a state complaint.

DeWall's car swung around the corner onto Summit, hit a telephone pole wire, careened across the street, smashed into a parked car, sending it into a second car on a driveway, then ploughed into a garage.

The first car hit was owned by Richard Pompa, 1042 Grant St., who had the used car four days, and the second car was owned by Jacob Pompa, Richard's father. The Pompa building hit is a remodeled garage, used for storage. Police found DeWall and a girl companion in the car. Neither was injured.

Man Captures Texas Lizard In Kaukauna

KAUKAUNA — A Texas horned lizard, far from its natural habitat, was captured by Norbert Hartjes, 201 W. Seventh St., last week when he noticed the creature running alongside his garage.

The small lizard resembles a horned toad and is native to the Southwest and Mexico. It thrives on live insects and especially likes ants, according to authorities. The lizard is harmless, but with the many horns on its body appears anything but safe to handle. It will not eat in temperatures below 70 degrees.

Whether the lizard was brought home by a visitor to the southwest or whether it made the journey on its own is not known.

Youths Pay Speeding Fines

Three youths held in the Outagamie County jail since Friday paid fines on speeding charges today in Municipal court.

Judge Gustave Keller sent the youths to jail after hearing about their motorcycle race at speeds up to 80 miles an hour in the 45-mile zone along Wisconsin Ave. (State 96) between Little Chute and Appleton.

Fined today was Edwin A. Schueler, 20, 823 W. Spring St., $15 for driving 70 m. p. h. and $20 for driving 70 m. p. h. He gets 12 points and a motor vehicle commissioner's suspension for the offenses.

Fred R. Benz, 17, 1621 S. Douglas St., got a 90-day revocation of his driver's license for driving 82 m. p. h.

Richard F. Wolfinger, 20, Dundas, was fined $20 for 64 m. p. h. Each gets six points charged against his driving record.

$300 Vandalism At Oshkosh Hotel

OSHKOSH—Approximately $300 damage was done to the bedding at the Atherne Hotel sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning, Mary Bally, hotel manager, reported the vandalism at 11:30 a. m. Sunday.

Pillows and mattresses on three beds in one room had been slashed and the contents scattered around the room. Oshkosh police are checking on three youths who had stayed in the room Saturday night and had given Milwaukee addresses.

Polly Was Always a Lady Who at Times Seemed a Dog

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MENASHA — Polly was a lady.

She was to be two years old Tuesday and she was just beginning to realize that she was a dog. Above all she was a lady. She slept on beds when she could and on overstuffed chairs when she had to move.

She had other undoglike traits. She actually sat on chairs with her hindquarters off the floor. Although she was big enough to see out a window from the floor, she preferred to mount a chair and loll her head on its back.

She was smart. She wasn't able to pass a course in obedience. She had a penchant for chewing and tearing up upholstery and often had her own ideas about sanitation.

But she was smart. She was able to open closed doors. Somehow she used her paws to work doorknobs. This single mark of intelligence proved to be her undoing.

Saturday night she left the house — like a lady. On her way home from her constitutional she ran head-long into a car and broke her neck.

She left a big hole in our family circle. Not only because she was a pet with liquid yellowish eyes and boundless loyalty and patience, but because Polly was a lady.

Members Accept Third Offer By Company After Second Employee Meeting in 24 Hours

A 17-day strike by about 320 production and maintenance workers at Appleton Coated Paper Co., ended Sunday morning when union workers voted to accept the firm's latest offer.

The Sunday meeting was the second in 24 hours in which the workers, members of United Mine Workers, District 50, met to vote on a company offer.

Employees of all three shifts are returning to work today, Harold Penney, UMW international representative, said. The plant is being readied to return to full production, company officials said.

The company offer accepted by union members Sunday will give a 6-cent across the board wage hike to both men and women, effective Aug. 28. The union had demanded an 8-cent boost.

The shift differential for the 3 to 11 p. m. shift will go from six to seven cents an hour, and the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift will go from 12 to 14 cents an hour. The company had agreed to the bigger shift differentials since shortly after the strike started Aug. 10.

Insurance premiums for all group insurance, including life insurance, will be paid 70 per cent by the company and 30 per cent by the workers, effective Sept. 1.

The union had demanded that the company pay the entire insurance costs. Premiums had been split evenly between workers and company.

Effective Jan. 1, 1962, an improved major medical hospital and surgical plan will be adopted.

New Brackets
Two new brackets were added to the sickness and accident insurance weekly benefits. Benefits start after the fourth day of disability and continue for 26 weeks. Any downward revision of rates as the result of a reevaluation of jobs will become effective immediately after the last full pay period before the termination of the contract.

Four union workers who are members of the bargaining committee will be able to meet with the company's plant committee with no loss of pay when the meetings are during regular working hours.

Old Contract
These terms of the company's offer are being incorporated into a supplemental agreement today, and will become part of the old contract, which has been reinstated. The contract will terminate July 31, 1962.

The old contract, which had a re-opener clause in it, was terminated by the union Aug. 10. The offer accepted by union workers Sunday was the third the company made. The vote to accept it was 195 to 30.

A union membership meeting Saturday morning turned down the firm's second offer, which was almost identical to the one accepted Sunday.

Principal Difference
Storch told county police he was driving south on S. Park Avenue and lost control of the car on a curve. The vehicle went off the road and hit a house owned by Benjamin Hart.

Police list damages as extensive. The Saturday offer resulted from a mediation session Friday with Federal Conciliator Joseph Conley, Green Bay.

The Sunday offer resulted from a Saturday night meeting between officials of the firm and the union.

Girl Injures Face In Water Accident

Miss Marlene Wendt, 19, 231 E. Franklin St., injured her face in a water-skiing accident about 6 p. m. Sunday at Cloverleaf Lake seven miles north of Clintonville.

Miss Wendt was taken to Clintonville Community Hospital for observation. Her condition was reported as not serious.

The accident occurred when Miss Wendt hit a dock near the lake shore while water skiing. The boat was operated by Dick Paulsen, Milwaukee.

Registration Began at Xavier High School this morning, when the class of 1965 reported to get freshman schedules and books and to pay fees. John Lessard talked across the counter to Brother L. Thomas, right, as Daniel Zimmer checked in with Mrs. Roy Fox, secretary.

Damage Unofficially Estimated at near $50,000 was caused this morning by fire which leveled the machine shed at the Winnebago County Hospital farm. Attempts to remove some of the machinery from the burning structure were futile. Three Oshkosh fire trucks and one from the Town of Oshkosh fought the blaze. Most of the loss was to the contents of the 30 by 120 foot 2-story shed.

Pfeffer was arrested at 4:10

Baptist Board Okays New Camping Plan

GREEN LAKE — A new method in youth camping, an expanded children's center, and selection of sites for the proposed chapel recreation area and additional house-keeping cabins were approved by the board of directors of American Baptist Assembly at its annual meeting here Thursday through Saturday.

Rather than duplicating state camping programs for youth, the new method will be to use assembly camping facilities as a laboratory to train leaders for work with young people.

1,500-Seat The site recommended for the proposed chapel-auditorium is two acres near the grape arbor in the inn area.

Long-range development plans call for doubling the present area of the Children's Center, establishing a new area for 25 additional housekeeping cabins and a new recreation center.

Major emphasis of the past year has been placed on expanded facilities for the assembly staff according to Dr. J. E. Dollar, resident director. Finished projects include the Robbins student center, a young adult staff dormitory, an apartment building for the resident staff, renovation of the farm house and creation of two staff lounges.

Next project will be a $55,000 addition to the Administration building.

Faculty Members From UW Die

MADISON (AP)—Prof. Don D. Lescohier and Associate Professor John M. Wright, both members of the University of Wisconsin faculty, died Sunday.

Lescohier, 78, emeritus professor of economics and a member of the UW staff since 1918, died in a Madison hospital.

Wright's death, following a heart attack suffered while water skiing in northern Wisconsin, was reported by the university.

Wright was 43 and an associate professor of entomology. He came to Wisconsin in 1957.

Permit Issued for Building of Apartment

A permit has been issued to Roy J. Schumacher for construction of a four-apartment building at 619 N. Division St. Cost is listed as $30,000.

The brick veneer building will be two stories high, 50 by 34 feet. There will be 16 rooms and two bathrooms.

Youths Complete Year's Novitiate For Priesthood

John A. Berkers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Berkers, 120 Green Bay St., Kaukauna, and David J. Gerhartz, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gerhartz, Chilton, have completed a year of novitiate with the White Fathers in Franklin, Pa.

After visiting with his family, Berkers will sail Aug. 25 for London, where he will study in St. Edward Seminary. Gerhartz will report to the White Fathers' Seminary of Theology, Eastview Canada, near Ottawa, on Aug. 25 after a visit in Chilton.

The young men were graduated from the Salvatorian Seminary at St. Nazianz and completed college studies last year at St. Joseph Seminary, Onchota, N. Y. They have four years of theological study left before ordination.

The White Fathers work exclusively in missions of Africa.

Fogging Sprays for Mosquito Control Shouldn't be Overdone

Warning Comes From Group of Wildlife Specialists Studying Pesticide Hazards

Fogging sprays for mosquito control in cities and communities should not be overdone, warns a group of entomologists, health officials and wildlife specialists who are considering the possibilities of hazards to human health and wildlife associated with the use of pesticides.

The specialists point out that although it is not known whether there are adverse long-range health effects to humans and animals from excessive exposure to such sprays, too much fogging is both expensive and unnecessary. On the other hand, there are known benefits to health and more pleasant living from mosquito control.

The specialists make up the Pesticide Use Study Group, which held its first meeting at the Wisconsin Wildlife Center, Aug. 8, to consider control in cities and communities the mosquito fogging problem.

Find Breeding Sites

They recommend more emphasis be placed on finding mosquito breeding sites, and aiming control methods at the larvae in these places — not at the adult mosquitoes which have migrated throughout the community. This could be done with insecticides or by draining or filling the breeding sites — temporary surface water pools which form during spring and early summer.

Ordinarily, occasional fogging isn't considered to be hazardous to humans or wildlife. Dosages of materials approved for use have low toxicity for humans and animals, and in sequence applications aren't likely to cause trouble. But weekly fogging is probably unnecessary, the group states. The fogs should be applied only when adult mosquito populations build up — as shown by the number of mosquitoes caught at various survey points in such devices as light traps — and not just when some people in the community think the mosquitoes are bothersome.

Conditions Must Be Right

And the fogs should be applied when weather conditions are right and not merely at a time convenient to the operator. Evening is best, during clear weather when wind speed is less than four miles per hour, and there are no convection (rising) air currents. DDT or malathion insecticides can be applied at rates of one-tenth to three-tenths pound of actual insecticide per acre without a recognizable hazard unless applications are made too frequently. More recently DDVP has been registered for fogging at 0.05 to 0.1 pound of actual insecticide per acre. Small amounts of very safe quick-knockdown agents are sometimes added to the DDT or malathion.

Mosquitoes aren't difficult to control with very low dosages of insecticides, and fogging will often help, the group concludes. The most practical and economical trick for successful control is to find the major breeding sites and apply the control measures there at the proper time.

The group making these recommendations has just begun periodic meetings to take up possible health problems associated with use of pesticide chemicals.

Top Entertainment Set for Opening of Winnebago Fair

Lone Ranger, Lennon Sisters Among Major Program Features

OSHKOSH—One of the top programs ever to be staged at the Winnebago County fairgrounds here is scheduled for this week, according to Robert Misky, secretary-manager.

The fair will open officially at 9 a.m. Tuesday with the closing set for Friday evening. A varied program is set for each day.

Television's "The Lone Ranger" will be on hand for Tuesday's programs at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m., bringing with him his new partner, Dan Reid; his horse, Silver, and Chatter, the chimpanzee whose acts on television have established his popularity.

Fire Program

At 2 p.m. on both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons will be a special program by the Oshkosh fire department which combines comedy with common sense instruction on fire prevention.

Fire fighting of a century ago will be contrasted with today's scientific methods and the firemen have refurbished two old fire apparatus, a hand pumper and a steamer, which had been relegated to the Oshkosh museum. Grandstand admission will be free for this event.

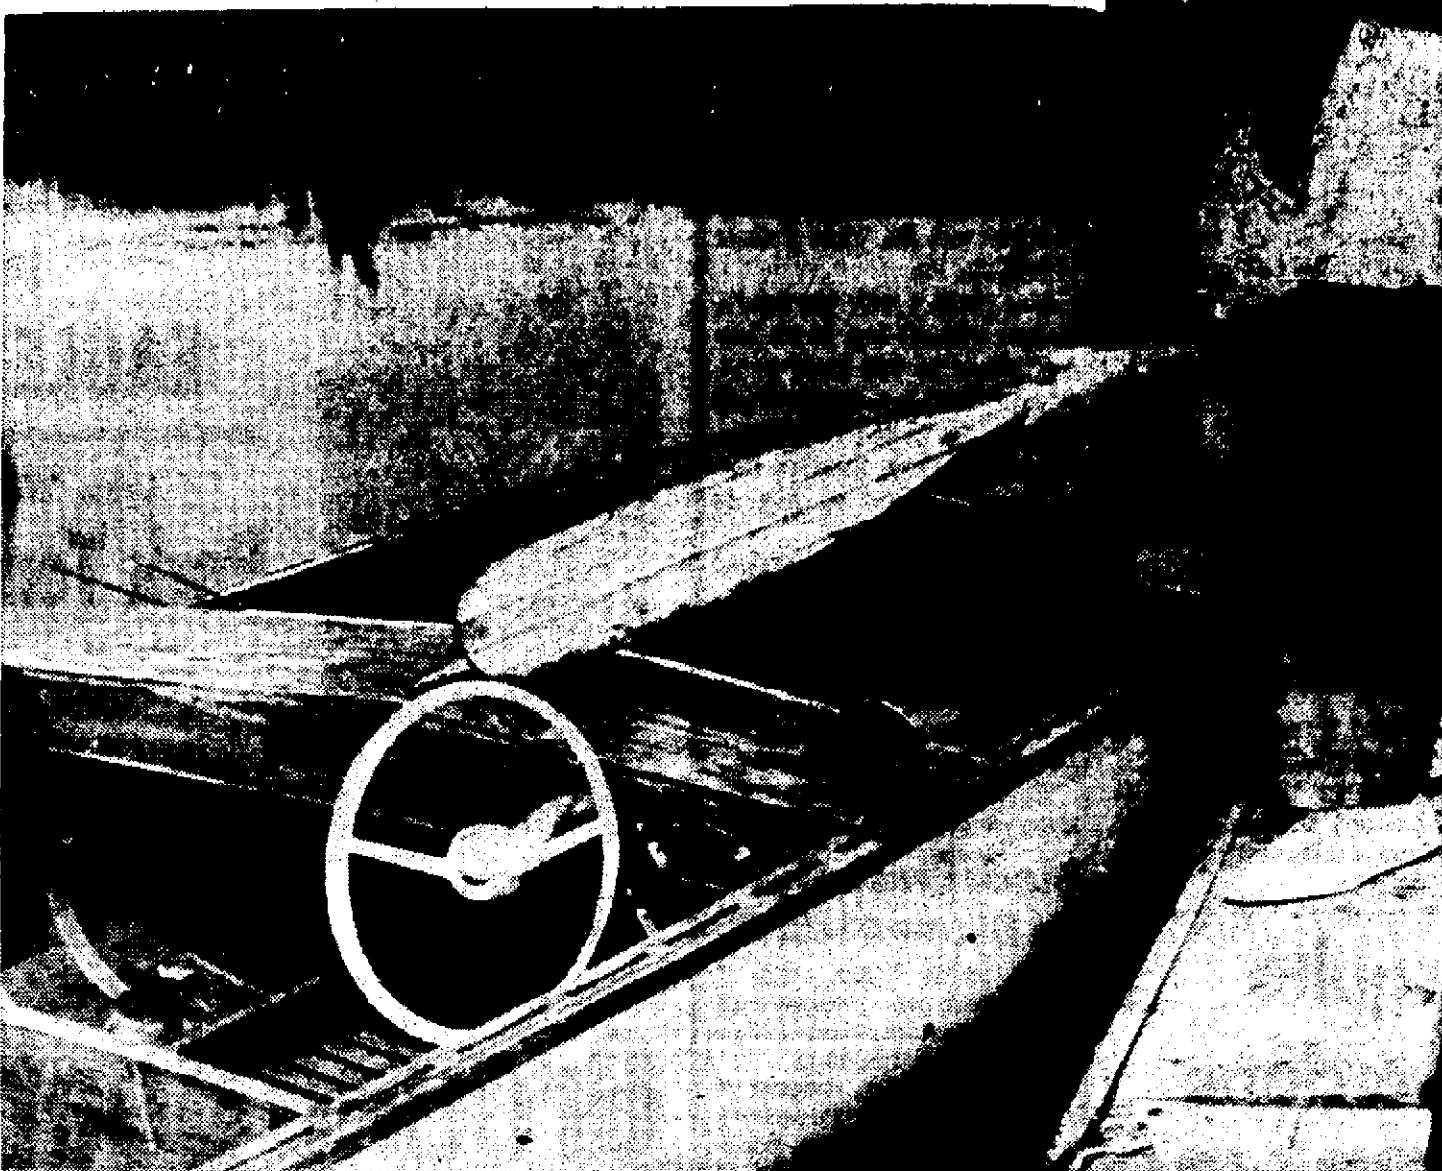

Lennon Sisters

The evening grandstand show will feature the Lennon Sisters, who reached acclaim on the Lawrence Welk television show. Along with them will be JoAnn Castle, specialty pianist with Welk's orchestra, and Peter Palmer's orchestra. This act will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday and at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Thrill Day will be Friday with the Austyn's Motor Derby show at 8 p.m. with both men and women daredevils doing perilous stunts. Emmett Kelly, Jr., son of the famous clown, will provide the comedy touch in the style

School Building Time-Table Slowed

Legal Technicalities Postpone Wittenberg Area Construction

WITTENBERG—The timetable for the $225,000 school construction plan approved by voters at the annual school meeting July 24 will need to be revised, E. B. Wickstrom, district administrator, has been told. Two legal technicalities have led to postponement of the proposed sale of bonds.

The 10 per cent debt limit for qualified common school districts was set according to state statute. However, the 1961 legislature also passed another law, changing the debt limit for Milwaukee County from 5 per cent of the assessed valuation to 5 per cent of the equalized valuation. Due to an oversight in the drafting, the lawmakers seem to have inadvertently repealed the 10 per cent limit.

Although the vote at the annual meeting was thought to be final, $125,000 for a new Elementary School at Elderon (157 for and 63 against) and $400,000 for the Wittenberg High School addition (134 for and 76 against). Wittenberg school officials have recently been advised to submit these

Konrad Warns Of Sales Frauds

This Is Time of Year Furnace Gyps Make Canvasses

NEENAH — John G. Konrad, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah-Menasha, cautioned the public today to be on the guard against furnace repair gyps who are active during the summer and early fall.

Konrad stated, "In a typical version of the racket, the unscrupulous repairman will ring the homeowner's doorbell — frequently during the day when the man of the house is away — and state 'he just happens to be in the neighborhood' and has 'just completed some other furnace repair work nearby.'"

"He states that, while he and his associates are in the area, they are willing to undertake a complete inspection of the homeowner's furnace, with absolutely no obligation of any sort to the homeowner."

Once the repairman secures access to the basement, Konrad stated, he dismantles the entire furnace, and then states that it is in extremely dangerous condition and is unrepairable. By the use of such "scare" tactics, the gyps frequently succeed in getting the homeowner to sign a contract for an entire new heating plant.

In some instances, Konrad pointed out, gyp furnace repairmen may pose as "official inspectors," or representatives of governmental or security groups, in order to secure access to the homeowner's furnace for the purpose of dismantling it.

In other instances, Konrad pointed out, the gyps will take the furnace apart for the purpose of "cleaning" it and will then call in a fake "heating engineers," who is in reality a party to the hoax, to look over a defect they allegedly discovered. This fake opinion that the furnace is dangerous and unrepairable.

William Lyons, 22, driver of the car, and Terry D. Kenney both suffered face cuts, Lyons was driving north on 22 when his car gyps should report the incidents hit the truck driven by Meyle E. Buschke, 42, route 2, Wautoma.

Police Show Cruised Way To Safety

NEENAH—The police boat early Sunday night escorted to the safety of Neenah harbor a boat owned by an Oshkosh man.

Harold Race, 806 Powers St., owner of the craft, told police that he had begun to wonder whether to continue on to Oshkosh, when Lake Winnebago became quite rough and visibility poor.

The police boat's crew discouraged him from continuing on, then escorted him to the boat-house, where he tied for the evening.

A 26-foot cruiser was towed to safety at 6:34 p.m. Friday after it ran out of gas on Lake Winnebago off Payne's Point. Owner of the cruiser is Gordon E. Medlock, South Bend, Ind.

The police boat was dispatched after Mrs. Kenneth Anklaam, Cowling's bay, saw a red flare being waved out on the lake and notified Neenah police.

Tree Program Benefits from Giant Auction

NEENAH — A giant auction, aimed at raising funds to complete the downtown tree planting program, will be held during the third week of September.

Plans for the auction were made during a recent meeting of the Flower Box Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at the home of Mrs. Lorete Hawkinson.

Co-chairmen of the committee are Mrs. Hawkinson and Donald Hruska, Dallas Patterson, of the Jandrey Co., is co-ordinating plans for the auction.

No date has yet been set for the event.

The committee will meet again this week to set up specific details of the event during which Wisconsin Avenue between Commercial and Church Streets will be blocked off and articles sold by a professional auctioneer hired by the committee.

"There is a possibility that trees may be planted this fall in order to assure blossoms on trees in the springtime," Hruska said.

Sales Plans by Chain Referrals Called Illegal

NEENAH—Chain referral sales plans violate postal fraud and lottery statutes, according to John G. Konrad, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Neenah-Menasha.

Konrad warned local merchants and consumers that, according to the National Better Business Bureau, the United States Post Office department has ruled that the typical chain referral sales plan has the three essential elements of a lottery — prize, chance and consideration, and is fraudulent in design and intent.

Heart Drive Leader Named

OSHKOSH — Arthur C. Jacobsen, route 1, Oshkosh, has been named as Winnebago County campaign representative for the 1962 Heart Fund drive of the Wisconsin Heart Association.

The appointment was made by Dan K. Erickson, Dennis Batten, Wayne Beach, Bill Braatz, Chuck Dohle, Brian Erickson, Jack Martins, Warren Mathers, Bill Morgan, James Neimuth, David Peterson, John Peterson, Todd Nelson, Raul Reyes, Jay Richards, George Seul, Jim Strebe, Craig Taylor and Doug Kolb.

Director Cites Need For Hospital for Aged

Hospitalization Accounts for Big Share of OAA Costs

OSHKOSH — Why the Winnebago County welfare board has been so concerned with the future use of Sunny View Sanatorium as a possible general hospital for the aged and chronically ill was outlined today by Welfare Director Norman L. Whitford.

Half of Winnebago County's medical outlay for old age assistance goes toward hospitalization—49.78 per cent to be exact. The average for the 70 counties outside of Milwaukee County is 28 per cent.

Another 26 per cent of the medical care expense goes toward nursing home care; the state average for this type of cost is 41.7 per cent. The balance of the medical care expense, which amounts to 24 per cent, is for medical bills and drugs for old age assistance recipients living in private homes.

Fewer Cases

There has been a decrease in the number of old age cases, Whitford said, but the medical costs now exceed the costs for these persons to maintain themselves.

For the month of July, the county spent $20,143 for the food, shelter and living expenses of the 546 old age recipients. It spent $30,433 for their medical care. For the 22 persons receiving blind aid the costs were $1,023 for their maintenance and $2,349 for their medical care. The 73 disabled aid cases had $3,027 spent on them for maintenance and $4,650 for medical care.

If many of these persons could be put in a county general hospital, Whitford maintained, these medical care costs could be substantially reduced. He estimated that total costs for the old age assistance program this year might run from $11,000 to $12,000 over the $592,000 budgeted for that aid this year.

Child welfare costs also may top the $35,000 in the budget for that work. One reason, Whitford explained, is the increased demand for counseling services by the courts, schools, clergy and physicians. The caseload as of June 30 was 373 while on Sept. 30 of last year there were 219 cases.

The aid to dependent children program is expected to stay within its $373,000 budget. There are 182 families receiving this aid plus 94 children in foster homes. About 40 of these children also are included in the child welfare costs.

Both the aid to the blind and aid to the disabled are expected to exceed their budgets, the latter by about $24,000. Liberalization of what constitutes being totally disabled has increased the caseload by allowing more persons to be eligible. This also has increased the medical care costs, he said.

On Marion Team

WAUPACA—Delmer Dieck, a former football star at Marion High School, returns to football this year to handle the Waupaca freshman team.

Dieck was graduated from Marion in 1955 and Oshkosh State College in 1959. The last two years he taught mathematics at Lena High School but did not do any coaching.

He is presently working with 20 boys but expects additional candidates when school starts Sept. 6. Dieck is concentrating on conditioning and fundamentals of blocking and tackling from his inexperienced crew. The first game for the frosh will be Sept. 25 at Stevens Point.

Worker Slashes Himself With Razor Blade

15 Stitches Needed To Close Wound on Shoulder, Collar Bone

WEYAUWEGA — A carnival worker slashed himself with a double-edged safety razor blade Saturday night in an apparent fit of despondency.

Fifteen stitches were required to close the self-inflicted wound across the right shoulder and collar bone of Lawrence LaBadie, 24, Detroit, Mich.

LaBadie at first told Weyauwega Police Chief Kenneth Thompson that he had been stabbed by another carnival worker in an argument.

All-Night Search
An all-night search failed to turn up the fictitious assailant. LaBadie admitted, under questioning by Thompson Sunday, he had cut himself.

Thompson said LaBadie, who had been employed by the thrill show at Waupaca County fair, had an argument Friday with his boss and had quit the show.

LaBadie spent all of Saturday drinking and about 10:30 p.m. went behind a tavern where he slashed himself, Thompson said. LaBadie then went into the tavern and reported he had been stabbed, the police chief said.

Thompson and Deputy Robert not know why he did it.

Youth Drowns in Mississippi River

GLEN HAVEN, Wis. (AP) — Terry Sweeney, 19, of Lancaster drowned in the Mississippi River Sunday night after he helped two companions to shore and then returned to their capsized boat.

Sweeney, William P. Peake Jr., and Russell Noble, all of Lancaster, were in the boat on the Iowa side of the river when the craft overturned early in the evening.

Neenah Man Will be Sentenced on Sept. 6

OSHKOSH — Sentencing of Earl Lauger, 46, 154 E. Forrest Ave., Neenah, on a drunk and disorderly conduct charge was set for 9:30 a. m. Sept. 6 by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning.

Lauger was arrested by Neenah police at 3:45 p. m. Saturday at a Commercial street bar in Neenah. The police report said Lauger became abusive and attempted to hit his wife when police arrived.

Lauer questioned LaBadie for three hours. He gave them a description of a person who supposedly had stabbed him.

Sunday morning William Krueger Jr., 12, found a razor blade in back of the tavern and Thompson noticed blood on one edge of the blade. LaBadie cut himself.

When confronted with the evidence LaBadie admitted he had slashed himself. He said he did not know why he did it.

A 1908 Buick, owned by Allie Mayer of Kaukauna, gets a close examination by Clyde Kiser and his son Fredrick, both of Appleton. The Buick was one of a dozen antique autos on display at Valley Fair Shopping Center.

Weekend Display

Antique Cars Shown At Valley Fair Center

Antique cars, some with familiar names, others as obsolete as a high-wheeled bicycle, were on display at Valley Fair Shopping center Friday and Saturday.

There were Fords, Chevrolets, Chryslers and Cadillacs. There also were cars such as the Overland, the Rambler (no relation to the present Kenosha-produced compact) and Hudsons.

The occasion was an antique auto show conducted by the Wisconsin Horseless Carriage Club.

Ignore Signs
Curious crowds thronged the display with a few youngsters (and more than one oldster) ignoring the "Look, But Don't Touch" signs to get closer to the antiques.

Probably the star of the show was a 1930 custom-made Duesenberg. The car, valued at some $30,000, was formerly the property of actress Marion Davies.

All of the dozen cars on display had one thing in common—each had been painstakingly restored to near-perfect condition by owners who had spent thousands of hours making the cars look and run like new.

Steels Pace Market Gains

Aircrafts, Some Chemicals Aid in Upward Price Trend

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, aircrafts and some chemicals paced a market advance early this afternoon in moderate trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.20, at 2:54.40 with industrials up 2.80, rails up .30 and utilities off .10.

Gains of fractions to a point or so among key stocks outnumbered losers.

American Motors was fairly steady in active trading following news that it had agreed "in principle" over the weekend on a new labor contract. Ford and Chrysler sagged and General Motors kept a fractional gain as their chances of avoiding a strike remained in doubt.

Jones & Laughlin, up about 2, made the best showing among the major steel producers. U.S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet were up about a point each. Lukens advanced more than a point. Bethlehem and Republic added substantial fractions.

American Telephone traded off about a point and Jersey Standard erased a fractional gain and traded about unchanged.

Eastman Kodak rose more than a point. Lorillard, Air Reduction and Republic Aviation were up about a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.31 at 719.01. Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Man Admits Drunk, Disorderly Conduct

OSHKOSH — Harold Harnitz, 43, 100 W. Ninth Ave., Oshkosh, admitted drunk and disorderly conduct and was fined $50 by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning.

Harnitz was arrested at 6:12 p. m. Friday by Oshkosh police at the boarding house where he was staying on a complaint signed by his landlady.

Jones Named Director for Attic Theater

Mrs. Gene Hoffman To be Manager; Agency Also Formed

Don Jones, director of "Anything Goes," was named managing director Sunday by unanimous vote of the Attic Theater Council.

The council acted to replace Mrs. F. Theodore Cloak, the company's founder who has retired after 12 seasons.

Since Jones teaches in the east and can be with Attic only in the summer, the council unanimously named Mrs. Joan Hoffmann as resident company manager to give continuity to the company's affairs.

The Attic Theater Booking Agency also was formed by the Council Sunday. Mrs. Jack Glasner and Mrs. Donald Anderson will operate the agency.

Mrs. Anderson explained the agency will be a clearing house for Attic-connected talent, such as certain productions that have been staged by the company, individual performers or chamber reading groups. Some time in the future, she said, is the possibility of a winter season for the company.

Jones, a native of Milwaukee, is a Lawrence College graduate and one of the theater's charter members.

He returned to the Attic Theater this season, starring in "Blithe Spirit" and "Petrified Forest" besides directing "Anything Goes," the company's first musical and the biggest attraction it ever had at the box office.

Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning imposed the two sentences which are to follow their present terms in the county jail.

Both Schiedermayer and Kaufman were arrested by Oshkosh police last Monday afternoon while hiding under mattresses in the attic at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Delfosse, 1019 W. 11th Ave., Oshkosh.

Police were tipped off on their location after an investigation by Sheriff Richard T. "Bud" Lowell.

The two men pleaded guilty last Thursday to the escape. Mrs. Delfosse Friday was given a year's probation for harboring them.

Schiedermayer had been serving a six months term imposed July 21 for check forgery. Kaufman had been sentenced July 3 to two consecutive terms of three months each for nonsupport.

Schiedermayer's offense being a felony brought him the prison term of one year. Kaufman's offense was a misdemeanor.

Castro Will Return Embassy Funds From Currency Exchange

HAVANA (AP)—The Castro regime has agreed to return immediately all funds deposited by foreign diplomats and embassies in the Aug. 13-14 currency exchange, informed sources said Sunday night.

Diplomatic informants said last week ambassadors and charges d'affaires of 26 nations had protested to Foreign Minister Raul Roa the government's decision to withhold most of the Cuban currency they had turned over during the exchange.

Vocational School Grads Plan Reunion

Students who attended the School of Business at the Appleton Adult and Vocational School 1956 through 1958 will hold a reunion at 2 p.m. Sunday at Alicia Park.

The committee planning the affair consists of Mrs. Kay Schulze, Robert Seehawer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schness, Elmer Moericke, Peter Bekkers and Mrs. Adele Cottrell.

Oshkosh Man Admits Charge of Beating Wife

OSHKOSH — James Calkins, 32, 204 Merritt Ave., Oshkosh, admitted battery on his wife when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning.

Sentencing was set for 9 a.m. Friday. Calkins was held in county jail without bond.

He was arrested by Oshkosh police at 3:52 p.m. Friday on a complaint signed by his wife.

U. S. Auto Buyers Are Gadget-Crazy

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Would you like a "bottom cooler" for your auto — a rig which blows air into a special seat cushion to circulate breezes under you and thereby to give you the ultimate in driving luxury? It's available: $12.95 at Hammacher Schlemmer, New York.

Would you like to have a "Coffee, Soup and Toddy Warmer" which you can plug into a socket, on your car's dashboard so you can have a hot drink at will? It's available, $11.95 at Lewis and Conger, Manhasset, Long Island.

How about some extension lights to plug into a socket so you can spend your evenings in the backseat reading a good book or can find that lipstick when it rolls into a corner? Prices: $2.95 up at Sears Roebuck and other leading stores.

Or how about a hand vacuum cleaner ($10.95) to suck up cigarette matches? Or a Car-B-Cue ($5.95) to roast your franks while driving? Or an old-fashioned auto electric razor (up to $34.50) to remove that "shadow" at the last minute before the great date begins?

Many Gadgets

All these and many more gadgets are on the market for your motoring pleasure, and when I say "many more" I'm not kidding. In a fit of whimsy a few days ago, one of Dodge's press agents issued a "sneak preview" of what he described as an amazing optional-equipment gadget to be installed on the 1962 Darts — "an all-purpose, instrument panel utility socket." Along with the tongue-in-cheek report came a list of appliances now being manufactured for the gadget-crazy auto driver to plug into the socket (in addition to "a short, round hot-filament electrical unit which can be used to ignite cigarettes"). The bottom cooler and bottle warmer are just starters.

For gadget-crazy you are and getting more so all the time. You've supposedly told Detroit in unmistakable terms that you want economy in autos by your buying of U.S. compacts. In July your purchases of compacts accounted for an all-time high of 37.8 per cent of total car sales against next to nothing only five years ago.

But at the same time that you're demanding so-called economy cars, you're buying a staggering total of optional equipment which adds hefty amounts to the basic cost of the most austere, less chromed, less powered, more thinly upholstered compact.

As one illustration, on GM's compact Corvair, 62 per cent of the buyers are ordering factory-installed automatic transmissions, 95 per cent want heaters, 50 per cent want radios. On Dodge's compact Lancer, 60 per cent specify pushbutton transmission, 40 per cent want a radio, 95 per cent a heater. On Ford's compact Falcon, almost 50 per cent select the automatic transmission, 47 per cent take radios, also 90 per cent want heaters.

Another Illustration

As another illustration, while over-all 41.6 per cent of the buyers of the 1961 compacts took the manual gear shift, the significant point is that many paid as much for a manual as they would have for an automatic shift. As Ward's Automotive Reports points out, in the sporty four-speed variety, the stick shift "costs nearly as much as the automatic."

As a third illustration, consider the rush for the bucket seat model, which has to be classified as a luxury item, for it reduces seating capacity from an admitted

Police Arrest Sister of Man Nabbed in State

CHICAGO (AP) — Miss Eileen Nutley, 19, a sister of Lawrence Nutley, 26, one of three men accused of fatally shooting a Wisconsin deputy sheriff Monday, was arrested Thursday night in connection with the $26,000 robbery of the Chicago Motor Club.

Capt. Howard Pierson, head of the robbery detail, said Nutley and the other two men accused in the Wisconsin Dells shooting, Richard Nickel, 28, and William J. Welter, 23, robbed the club's downtown offices last July 31.

They invaded the offices, Pierson said, after Miss Nutley had given her brother diagrams of the club's main office.

Pierson said Miss Nutley, who was charged with armed robbery, had worked in the cashier's cage in the motor club's offices from July 1960 until last January. He said Nutley drove the getaway car in the robbery while his two companions invaded the second floor payroll office.

Nutley crowded six to an absolute maximum of five — two front, three back. There is simply no doubting that the bucket seat, the convertible model, the sporty sedan are lifting the compact cars of the 1961 compacts took the steadily and swiftly out of the so-called economy class, and your point is that many paid as much for extras and gadgets as for a manual as they would have behind the trend.

Perhaps a new high in gadgetry — though this one for a most worthy reason, safety — will be reached this fall by Imperial. It will have a special light on the dashboard which will blink when the engine is started and keep blinking until the driver has fastened his seat belt.

Kenya's Parties Heal Political Differences

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—With Jomo Kenyatta's blessing, Kenya's two leading political parties patched up their differences today to demand independence from Britain by next February.

Tom Mboya's Kenya African National Union (KANU) and the Kenya African Democratic Union (KADU) said they are ready to merge in an interim coalition government.

Kenyatta, 71-year-old nationalist leader detained by the British for nine years on charges of leading the Mau Mau antiwhite terrorist uprising, was given his complete freedom this week.

Kenyatta is favored by both parties to become the colony's first prime minister.

Starr Completes 12 of 22 Passes In Victory Before 42,560 Fans

Giants are Next

The Packers now have won three straight pre-season games this year and 11 in a row since the Bays lost to the Giants in Bangor, Me., in 1959. The next battle has the Packers fighting the Giants in the Bishop's charities game in Green Bay a week from tonight.

Green Bay didn't exactly sparkle in the first half. They scored with ease on an 8-play, 54-yard drive the first time they had their hands on the ball for a 7-0 lead.

But then the Bays performed three straight mistakes. The first, interception of Bart Starr's pass, tied the game at 7-7. The second, Jim Taylor's first of three fumbles, set the Bears in motion for their second TD (a 45-yard Ed to have an edge on the Packers in the go-go department in the first half but Vince Lombardi apparently took care of that during the intermission.

Couldn't Disappoint

With this huge crowd of Packers backers yelling encouragement, the Packers just couldn't disappoint. The Bays came out for bear in the second half and scored 17 points within a space of 9 minutes and 31 seconds from their third period until 4:05 of the fourth quarter. The Bears threatened just twice in the last half, once missing a field goal on the 38 and the other time losing the ball on an interception by Ray Nitschke.

When the game ended, the Packers were going down for a third touchdown, with John Roach at quarterback.

The second half outburst was set off by two 50-yard Starr passes. His 52-yard toss to Max McGee set up Paul Hornung's field from the 10 at 9:34 of the third period. Starr hurled 51 yards to Boyd Dowler to set up Taylor's second touchdown run at 1:21 of the fourth period. Less than three minutes later Starr passed six yards to Hornung in the end zone to settle the issue.

Just before that third TD Taylor fumbled for the third time, but Dowler recovered.

The Packers rolled up 421

Cedar Rapids Leads

Each club placed at least one player on the honorary squad, with Cedar Rapids gaining the most berths, five.

All-Star infielders are Paul Snyder of Cedar Rapids, first base; Tom Harper, Topeka, second base; Dayton Orsburn, Lincoln, third base, and Roberto Pena, Burlington, shortstop.

The outfield is composed of Bowens, Barry Morgan, of Cedar Rapids; and Joe Trenary, of Cedar Rapids.

Bill Holmes, of Cedar Rapids, and Bob Locker, of Lincoln, were selected as right-handed pitchers and Cedar Rapids' Dick Kelley and McNally were the left-handed pitchers.

Tom Harper, Topeka second baseman, won the "Michael H. Sexton Cup", emblematic of being selected the league's "Most Valuable Player".

Bob Locker, Lincoln pitcher, was awarded the "Robert H. Coleman Cup", for being named the "Outstanding Rookie."

The "Most Valuable Player" and "Outstanding Rookie" awards were made by a vote of the league's sportswriters, and the radio and television announcers.

Ralph Salvon, of Fox Cities, was named as the trainer for the '61 All-Star unit.

The Foxes, whose series finale with Topeka was rained out Sunday night, will play in Burlington tonight.

Ollie Brantley, a tall right-hander, won his second straight game for Topeka by limiting the Foxes to four hits. Brantley, a Class A veteran in professional baseball, fanned 14 and walked only one.

Brantley allowed only two base runners in only one inning, the seventh, when Sam Bowens drew the only base on balls and Jim Caldwell followed with a single after two were out.

Lombardi Gets Kick Out of Huge Crowd

from their handsome 421-yard harvest, including 258 passing. Lombardi paid unstinting tribute to the Bears' diminutive Johnny Morris for his second quarter circus catch, asserting, "It was just a great catch. That's what they pay those boys a lot of money for, to make those catches," he chuckled. "Gremminger had him well covered on the play."

The wary headmaster declined to compare either the 1961 Packers or Bears with their 1960 counterparts at this stage. "I don't remember how we were at this stage last year," he said.

Earlier, in the stifling Packers dressing room, towering Boyd Dowler, the game's offensive star, announced "We beat Caroline (the Bears' J. C.) with the same stuff we've been beating them with since Coach Lombardi came here."

"Their defenses are set up for certain passes," he smiled, "and you just have to throw 'em. Their defenses set it up." Be that as it may, Dowler made life miserable for Caroline and his colleagues by snaring six passes for 131 yards, a contribution that earned him the sportswriters' vote as the top offensive player of the 12th Shrine classic.

Nonchalant Max McGee, possessor of a droll sense of humor, explained his first half drop of a Bart Starr bomb in typically puckish fashion. "I had it in my mind I wanted to drop one early this year," he drawled, "and I thought this would be a good time. It happens to me once a year and I'm glad it's over with."

McGee was of the opinion, however, that the play could have been ruled a fumble, rather than an incomplete pass. "I ran with it a couple of steps, I believe," the ex-Tulane star observed.

A poised, confident Starr, who no longer permits such misadventures to unnerv him, said his errant pitch to Bruin LeClerc was a case of too much muscle. "I didn't mean to throw it that high. I didn't mean for it to go that far," he revealed. Starr, who got off the pass as he was hurtling to the turf, said, "I was just trying to throw to Paul (Hornung) who was about 10 feet away."

Hornung, encountered a few doors down, sounded a note of warning. "I think the Bears are going to be a lot better ball club this year than they were last season," he declared.

Jim Taylor, gingerly applying an ice pack to a throbbing right thigh, was at a loss to explain his sudden attack of fumbleitis. The Bayou Bronco, who surrendered the leather to the Bears on three occasions, shook his head and said simply, "I just lost 'em. They didn't punch 'em out of my arms or anything like that. I can't explain it — I just lost 'em."

George Halas, the Bears' veteran owner-coach, was his old tongue-in-cheek self, as expected. For example:

"The Bears," he said, "are improved a little but we have a long way to go, a long way to go."

"The champions played like champions and, of course, they deserved to win."

"The Packers, Lions, 49ers and Colts are outstanding in the Western Division." This does not, admittedly, leave many others although he was discounting the Los Angeles Rams and the embryonic Minnesota Vikings in addition to, of course, his Bears.

And what about the Bears' prospective finish? "We've been selected sixth and for the moment," he smiled, "we accept that."

What are the major problems? "We're hurting a bit on defensive backs at the moment," the urbane Bruin headmaster replied. "And, of course, we're still in organizational trouble because of the fire." He had reference to the winter blaze that destroyed Bear instructional films and play cards, in addition to a great treasury of records, pictures and other mementoes.

Star fullback Rick Casares was held out of the game because of minor injuries but, Packers please note, he should be hale and hearty when the bell rings three weeks hence. "Rick is due for a great year," Halas added, smiling at the prospect.

One of his major concerns at the moment is the player limit, which he feels is unfair to rebuilding clubs — like his.

Bears. "It's ridiculous not to have a 35-player limit (it has been cut to 30)," he declared. "Look, the Packers are made to order, the Browns are made to order, the Lions are made to order. But what about the other clubs — they need those two extra players. Even an extra specialist would help."

Really big show — the Shriner's, who long have embellished this classic with pomp and pageantry, outdid themselves this time. They spiced the 12th renewal with a visit from mustachioed Richard Boone, perhaps better known as "Paladin," the professional gunslinger of "Have Gun, Will Travel." Boone came dressed for the part, complete with ten-gallon hat and his trusty black stallion. Shawano's Pam Hodgins, who reigned as queen of this year's event, also was presented during the course of the festivities, which also included colorfully garbed bands, clowns, baton twirlers, prancing horses and thunderous rockets.

Payoff—Bart Starr and Bill Forester were presented with awards in recognition of their selection as the most valuable offensive and defensive players in last year's classic before Saturday night's game.

Thrillers — There were more than a few memorable moments in this latest Packer-Bear collision but two of the most spectacular centered around Boyd Dowler. The first came in the opening quarter when wiry Elijah Pitts flattened the Bears' Roosevelt Taylor in his tracks on the own 6-yard-line with a jarring second half. It came in the air leap, following a Dowler kick. The Starr hit six out of seven for 143 second came in the third quarter when Dowler, unperturbed by low pass from center, boomed one into orbit from his own 40-yard line. The ball descended an estimated 75 yards later, soaring over the goal line, the goal posts, the end line and ricocheting off the stadium's outfield fence.

on a fielder's choice after "Butch" Konetzke had singled. Konetzke was erased in the play. After two were out, Darold Eggert socked a 2-run homer for the Macs only runs Lee Peterson followed with another single but failed to advance as Manthey retired Clem Massey.

Freedom took a 3-0 lead by scoring a trio of runs in the fourth. The winners added three more in the fifth and capped off the scoring with single runs in the sixth and seventh.

Joe Freynik opened the Freedom half of the fourth with a single. After Dick Zeratsky popped out and Don Vande Wetering grounded out to first, Dan Carney drew a walk. Glen Muenster singled Freynik home with the first run of the game.

Manthey Singles — Jim Meyer, Mac hurler, uncorked a wild pitch and runners went to second and third. Manthey helped his own cause with a sharp single to left to score both men.

In the fifth, Don Gerrits reached second base on an error. After Jim Vande Wetering skied to right, Freynik picked up his second single. Zeratsky singled and Gerrits romped home with Freynik moving to third. Don Vande Wetering lashed out a two-bagger that scored Freynik and Zeratsky. The only tally in the sixth came after Manthey was safe on an error but was cut down when Vern Romenesko hit into a fielder's choice. Gerrits' grounder was thrown by the first baseman and Romenesko scored.

Score Final Run — After two out in the seventh, Don Vande Wetering singled. The ball got by the centerfielder and Vande Wetering went to third. Carney punched a single that sent Don home with the final run.

Manthey had good control in the game and struck out two batters while walking only one. Meyer worked the first six frames for Menasha, struck out four and walked one. Don Jensen finished up for the Macs and recorded three strikeouts without issuing a free pass.

yards, including 258 in the air. Starr finished off with 13 completions in 22 attempts for 223 yards, Taylor, running like a wild bull and with just as much force, made 97 yards in 20 trips for more than half of the Packer yardage ground total.

The figures show how the Packers captured the victory in their second half. It came in the air leap, following a Dowler kick. The Starr hit six out of seven for 143 second came in the third quarter when Dowler, unperturbed by low pass from center, boomed one into orbit from his own 40-yard line. The ball descended an estimated 75 yards later, soaring over the goal line, the goal posts, the end line and ricocheting off the stadium's outfield fence.

The Packer defense, with the regulars going all the way, maintained its 1-touchdown-yield per game since one of the Bears' TD came directly off the interception. And the Bears' other TD came on a spectacular catch by Morris. Hank Gremminger, who played a fine game, had a tight clamp on Morris, but the little Bear made a once-in-a-lifetime catch.

Green Bay had the ball for 34 plays in the second while the Bears had it for only 15. For the game, the Packers ran off 64 passes and rushes; the Bears an even 40.

The Bays' first TD came at 6:10 of the first period. After the Packers forced the Bears to punt after receiving the opening kickoff, the Bays started from their own 46.

Taylor tested the Bear line on the first two plays and made 11 yards. Starr then tried his first pass play but there wasn't a receiver around so he tore up the field for 13 yards. The Bear safetyman stuck his nose in the line, and Hornung was thrown for a 1-yard loss to the Bears' 32.

With a second-and-11 situation, Starr made with a quick count and hurled to Dowler on the right-center side for 28 yards to the four. Three plays later, Taylor went over standing up.

Hornung kicked the first of three extra points for 7-0.

Ed Brown, opening at QB, passed the Bears to two first downs but Roger Le Clerc missed a field goal from the 38.

After an exchange of punts, Starr tried a third and 12 pass from his own 33. Bart was rushed and tried to throw the ball away as he was hit. Le Clerc made a quick recovery and drove and scooped the ball a few feet off the ground in one motion and then rambled 29 yards for a tying TD. He stayed on to kick the first of two extra points.

Taylor then set the Bays in force with a 16-yard bolt. But two passes later, Kilcullen recovered his fumble and the Bears set forth on their second TD. Gallimore ran 10 yards in two trips and then Morris made his miracle catch.

Dowler, en route to a nifty 45-yard punting average, booted once and Taylor lost his second fumble. Fortunately recovering, during the rest of the half.

The Packers started the second half in the hole, the kickoff by Le Clerc being downed on the 10-yard line. Starr took care of that, passing to Dowler for 26 yards.

Packers Show They Can Rally and Win

The Packers seemed on their way when Bill George interfered with Hornung trying to catch a Starr pass on the 38. But the Bears tightened and Dowler, rushed badly, got off a fast punt that hit the right centerfield fence in front of the Braves' bullpen.

The Bays, getting the ball back in a hurry at the expense of Bill Wade who played QB the second half, scored the next three times they had their hands on the ball. Starr, chased to the left, lofted a perfect pass into McGee's arms for 52 yards and Hornung kicked a field goal when the Bays fell two yards short of a TD.

The Bays then went 80 yards for their second TD in five plays. On third and two, Taylor slammed 19 yards to the Packer 47. From there Starr and Dowler worked a 51-yard pass, with Boyd catching it around the 15 and stumbling away to the two where Roosevelt Taylor caught him. Taylor, conveyed by Fred Thurston and Jerry Kramer, zoomed to his left for the TD and a 17-14 lead.

Willie Wood recovered R. Taylor's fumble on the next kickoff on the Bear 27, and the Bays scored in four plays. Starr hit McGee on a 12-yard quickie, Taylor ran six, Dowler recovered Taylor's fumble for a 3-yard gain and Starr then hurled to Hornung in the end zone. Dowler was held on the play and Starr quickly adjusted and threw to Hornung.

Bill Forester tipped Wade's pass, and Nitschke intercepted to kill a final threat. Roach came on and rolled up three first downs in running out the clock. He threw 14-yard passes to Lew Carpenter and Lee Folkins. Herb Adderley and Elijah Pitts each ran twice before the game ended on the Bear 24.

Chicago scoring: Touchdowns — LeClerc (29 yards, interception of Starr pass, 10 second), J. Morris (45-yard E Brown pass, 4:29 second); extra points — LeClerc 2.

ting his first extra base hit for the Braves, scored the deciding run.

Bob Hendley, the fifth Braves' pitcher, took the victory, his fourth in seven decisions. Owens was the loser and is now 2-9. The Phillies collected 17 hits, Milwaukee 16.

In the nightcap the Braves were held to six hits by Art Mahaffey who went all the way to claim his ninth victory against 17 defeats. Bob Buhl worked seven innings, long enough to take his 10th licking in 19 decisions. Tony Cloninger finished up.

The Phillies scored in the fourth on a triple by Johnny Callison and a sacrifice fly. Tony Gonzalez' 10th homer and doubles by Wes Covington and Smith produced two runs in the eighth off Cloninger.

Tonight Warren Spahn, 15-12, faces Robin Roberts, 1-9.

Travel Costs
For One Day
Average $29

Normal Car Takes
12 Cents Per Mile
To Drive for Year

Outagamie County couples who are bound for the hinterlands on motor trips this summer will spend, on the average, about $29 a day while on the road, according to the American Automobile Association.

This is based on driving 300 miles a day. It includes $7 for car operation, $10.50 for meals and snacks, $9.50 for overnight lodgings and $2 for tolls and miscellaneous expenses.

But before the trip, the cautious driver will have his car checked over. And that is when he will get to wondering: "How much do I spend a year to run it?"

For most car owners that is a difficult question. It means combining all the variable-type expenditures, such as gas, oil and service charges, with the fixed costs, such as insurance, taxes and depreciation.

The AAA has come up with current facts and figures for the average car owner. It follows a survey of such costs in various parts of the country for a standard-size car in the popular-price field.

For normal operation at 10,000 miles a year, the cost is $807 in fixed charges plus 3.96 cents a mile, a total of $1,203.

Applied to Outagamie County and to the 33,180 passenger cars in use there, the annual expenditure locally is an estimated $39,916,000.

Every day throughout the year, whether a car is used or not, its owner incurs a bill for $2.21, the AAA reports. This is for depreciation, insurance and license fees.

The variable charges—for gas, oil, tires and maintenance—then enter the picture. They depend upon the amount of driving done.

The combined cost is 12 cents a mile at the 10,000-a-year rate.

Those who go 20,000 miles pay relatively less. Because the fixed charges stay the same, the cost drops to 8.1 cents a mile.

Operation at 5,000 miles a year, however, is much more expensive. It zooms to 20 cents a mile, the bulk of it in fixed charges.

Compact cars take less to maintain, states the AAA. The domestic ones are $248 cheaper and the foreign ones, $336. The figures are for 10,000 mile operation.

The amount of auto travel continues to grow and gas stations in Outagamie County have been benefiting by it. Their gross receipts last year reached $8,646,000 as against the previous year's $7,849,000.

Worry of
FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get PASTEETH at any drug counter.

STANDARD'S BUDGET PLAN gives you INSURANCE PROTECTION

at no extra cost!

On Standard's Insured Budget Payment Plan you get insurance protection that keeps your budget payments paid when you can't work because of prolonged disability caused by accident or sickness, or in case of death. This protection doesn't cost you a cent extra!

After the first 14 days of each and every disability, your budget payments are prorated on a daily basis and are then paid until you are able to return to work. You can benefit more than once in a single heating season. In the event of death, benefits continue to the end of your Standard Budget Payment Period.

There's no red tape... no occupational restrictions. You needn't be confined to bed to benefit. Usually, it's your own doctor who says when you can't work.

EXCLUSIONS OF COVERAGE: Disability resulting from pre-existing conditions, pregnancy or war. Insurance provided by Fidelity Life Association, a division of Kemper Insurance.
